New signs for waterfront

Niki Nikiforuk of Niki Graphics created two new signs of the Madoc Kiwanis Club waterfront project on Moira Lake. Nikiforuk used the same color scheme for the waterfront signs as he did for the sign over the Kiwanis Centre. On

Officials disagree over dog attack case

by John McPhee

There is disagreement over what events led to the mutilation of a female dog near Bancroft last week.

While initial reports suggested the dog was tied with a metal wire and raped by humans, police now say the dog was caught in a wolf snare and sexually attacked by other dogs for four days.

"Our investigation showed the dog was in heat and caught in the snare," said Cnst. Jeff Roloffs of Bancroft OPP. "The trapper (who owned the snare) found it along with four other male dogs standing next to it. He let the dog go and it went back to the owner."

Police were not releasing the names of the trapper or dog owner.

The dog - suffering from severe head and mouth cuts, along with torn vaginal tissue - was taken to Hi Meadows Dog Kennels on Nov. 17. Officials there contacted the St. Francis of Assisi Animal Rescue Mission, which has a shelter in Marmora Township and ARM supervisor Bob MacKenzie took the animal to the Tower Drive Animal Hospital in Toronto.

Hi Meadows Kennel Owner Bob Wilkes said in an interview the owner of the dog brought the dog in on Nov. 17 stating he found the part collie, part pound female on the side of the road. Upon examining her Wilkes thought the dog had been hit by a car and thrown through a fence.

After it was reported the dog may have been sexually assaulted by a human, Wilkes and his wife Verra attempted to track down the person. Mrs. Wilkes remembered the man coming into the kennel a previous time and paying in U.S. funds. After looking through list of customers paying in American currency the couple were able to track down the name.

In a conversation with the man, Wilkes said the man admitted bringing the dog, but kept to the same story of finding the dog along the roadside. Wilkes said the man called back a little later to admit he was in fact the owner of the dog.

Veterinarians there initially concluded the dog had been tied up around the neck with a metal wire and raped repeatedly by humans.

Although police now dismiss this possibility, veterinarian Dr. Satinder Singh is not ruling out human rape. He says examination of the dog's uterine tissues and vaginal cytology tests indicated the dog was not in heat and therefore would not accept the advances of male dogs.

"She had no bites or scratches (consistent with rough dog mating)," he said from his Toronto office. "Most bitches who are not in heat will try to fight back. We found no signs of this."

Officials from the Ontario Veterinary College concur with him on his findings, Singh said, although he emphasized that he has no incontrovertible evidence either way.

Madoc Township propose Granmarble plant more promising

by Jeff Wilson

A possible new investor for the proposed new Granmarble and Granite Inc. plant in Madoc Township came forward to shine a ray of hope on the project.

In an interview last Friday, Granmarble and Granite Inc. Chairman Thomas Watson said a man telephoned him and said he could finance the construction of the Hastings County plant on his own. Watson refused to release the name of the possible investor, but said the man was from eastern Ontario and he wanted to see an outline of the project before making a final decision on the investment.

Granmarble also had proposed to build a site in Elliot Lake, and it seemed to be the front runner, with three different investors interested in the plant to the north.

Smaller fairs to receive better opportunities for funding

by Jeff Wilson

The smaller fairs held in Ontario will have a better chance of receiving funding when the Ontario Association of Agricultural Societies (OAAAS) takes over all the funds next year.

The announcement made by OAAAS President Scott during the District Board meeting at St. Presbyterial Church in Madoc last Thursday.

Scott told the members of district 3 fair boards that OAAAS would take control of funding in April of 1992, said that of the 234 fairs in Ontario, currently 100 receive funding.

Agriculture Canada currently allocates the funding for fairs, but after completing five year study on funding feels that more local organizations like the OAAAS would be better able to judge eligibility.

Under the agreement between Agriculture Canada and the OAAAS, which is being signed by both parties, OAAAS will allocate $817,000 funding share to the fairs in the province.

Scott told the audience hopes to add a few more to the funding program year, but many additions program will not come 1993. Fairs new to the ram can receive a maximum of $10,000. "I'm checking up on her everyday now," Singh said. "It's possible she may have to go in for more corrective surgery, although that's not likely right now."

Watson said the new possible investor would have a deadline this week and also he could finance the entire million portion needed himself. Before the phone Watson only had an idea of bank interested in investing the Madoc Township plant.

"The more people look (the project) and the interest rates drop here in Canada, the more attractive looks because the return investment for the project over 40 per cent," he said.

The proposed 110,000 sq. foot plant will employ people and about 75 additional people in supporting industries.

The plant will ground floorings, kitchen counter and bathroom vanities. Production has been targeted for September 1993.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR...

Dear Editor:

One of the most pressing and controversial issues for the new Huntingdon council will be what to do with the rail line. Already interest groups are staking out claims. A recreational group has already started to grade the rail for recreational use. This is not only improper, but illegal without the approval of Township council. The argument or rationale is the the rail line is an unopened road allowance. Fact is, the line is not a road allowance and cannot be used or treated as such without official action being taken by council to enact the appropriate bylaw or proclamation.

This property was purchased under a specific motion passed by council for a specific purpose, to change that purpose without notice or vote by this council would raise the issue of appropriate use of funds! I don't believe any member of council has any pla to act in an improper or inappropriate manner!

There are many good uses that the rail line could be used for! According to the information that I have, the line is zoned according to the zoning of adjacent property. This includes environmentally protected areas, as well as others.

I would like to suggest three uses of this line to council:

1. conservation/nature areas
2. sell some areas back to adjacent landowners
3. development of recreation area/trail

Council should form a committee to study this matter and to make a comprehensive proposal for council's consideration, following public hearings.

If the special interest groups can get their act together and are willing to share the appropriate areas without taking an I, Me, Mine approach; if council takes a methodical and responsible approach instead of playing politics with this issue, then I believe it can be resolved in a friendly and neighborly way.

I would be interested in hearing any nature/conservation or environmentally minded folks who may be interested in the future of some of the areas that the line passes through.

Wildcats drop another to Napanee

by Nancy Powers

The Madoc Wildcats have yet to solve the league leading Napanee Raiders as they dropped a 5-0 decision at home on Nov. 26.

As of Dec. 2 Madoc had 10 points with four wins, nine losses and two ties. Their wins have come during games against Trenton and Picton. They have lost to Napanee and Ernestown four times each, and North Frontenac once, as well as a two ties against the Flyers. Their goals for and against are 46 and 83 respectively.

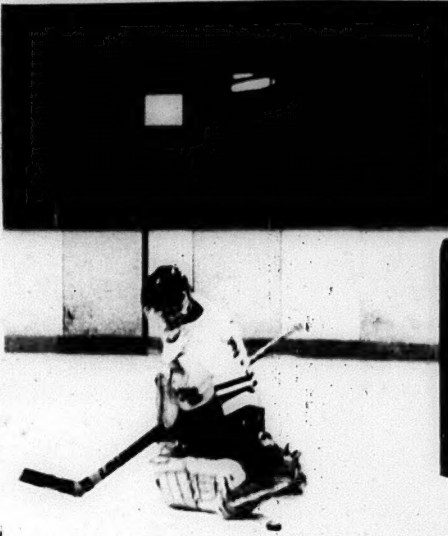

During the Napanee shutout the Wildcats skated toe-to-toe with the Raiders during the first period, however, a short-handed goal at 10:42 put Madoc down by one at the end of the one.

Four penalties in a row during the second period took the win out of Madoc's sails, as Napanee capitalized on the powerplay at 18:22 to jump ahead 2-0. Napanee scored again at 14:58 to leave the second period with a 3-0 lead.

Just 45 seconds into the third, after Madoc had killed off the dying seconds of a penalty, Napanee scored their fourth consecutive goal. Ten minutes later Napanee scored the final goal of the game at 9:34.

The Wildcat's next game is tonight (Dec. 3) at 8 p.m. when they play host to the Ernestown Jets.

(Reporter's note: The score did not reflect the game as Madoc Wildcats goaltender Rob Bandy look for the loose puck during the team's last home game against Napanee last Tuesday night. The Wildcats came out on the short end of a 5-0 score.

Madoc came out flying and were just unable to solve Napanee goalie Phil Groenewald. In fact during the third period, Madoc bounced three pucks off the goals posts. Although the score didn't indicate it, the game was entertaining.

Council denies request to blast dump

Madoc Village Council denied the request of Geophysics GPR International Inc. to place a 200 to 400 kilogram explosive in the village dump as part of a seismic survey.

In a letter to the village the company stated that in the spring of 1992 it will be studying the tectonic structures of the crust of the Canadian Shield in Ontario and Quebec using long range seismic refraction sounding techniques produced by explosives placed in the ground.

The study is part of the Lithoprobe project which is a "multidisciplinary geoscientific research program that is investigating fundamental questions concerning the nature and evolution of the lithosphere".

The seismic energy the company wishes to record will be created by placing 200 to 400 kilograms of dynamite in a 8 inch diameter hole at a 40 metre depth.

CHSS NEWS

by Chandler Lauzon

A short, yet busy week at CHSS, with students having last Friday off as a non-instructional day. Still, CHSS "managed" to have it's first big screen video dance of the year, as well as handling the incoming of citrus fruit for fundraising.

The Valley Video Roadshow and Dance made a stop at Centre Hastings last Thursday night. Students (and some staff!) moved and grooved to their favorite tunes, played by request. The Roadshow and Dance crew has been here before and manages to put on a very "hip" show. Last Thursday was no exception.

Ah, the cheerful summer days, the warmth, the sun! WELL, you can now bring back a little of that (sort of) because Florida citrus fruit orders have arrived (remember them?). If you have not picked yours up, they can be found in Madoc, Marmora and Tweed this week. Again, many thanks from the students' council for your support.

Is that all, no way! November was a busy month for OAC students planning to attend university. Various universities from around Ontario visited CHSS for info sessions with students. Reps from Trent, Western, Queen's, Guelph, York and many others talked over lunches and classes to inform students about their school's atmosphere, workload and conditions.

CHIC's Tug-of-War is OVER. We have a winner, homeroom 130 the CHIC-TURIONS. The final featured a well fought battle between them and Mitchell's Marauders of homeroom 246. The victorious team was jubilant and the win was well deserved (I can say this as a member of the team). CHIC thanks the participants and over 200 spectators that enjoyed the event.

Check in next week for a feature on our yearbook committee.

Famed Flying Fathers to visit Belleville

The internationally-known Flying Fathers will make a rare appearance at the Quinte Sports Centre in Belleville Tuesday, Jan. 14th. Their opposition will be the Chalk Busters, a team made up of teachers from the Hastings and Prince Edward Counties Roman Catholic Separate School Board.

The event is sponsored by the Quinte Arts Council and St.

Michael's Academy Parent Support Group with all proceeds going to these organizations.

The Flying Fathers have become one of the country's great hockey traditions. They played their first game in 1962 and have been entertaining thousands of people all over Canada, the United States and Europe ever since.

The concept of the hockey team originated with Rev. Father Brian McKee, a native of North Bay from the Diocese of Sault Ste. Marie. Father McKee felt there were a number of priests who had a great talent for the game and could combine good fun with an ability to raise funds for needy projects.

Each member of the Flying Fathers is an ordained Roman Catholic priest and by showing good sportsmanship in Canada's national sport they also communicate the Christian message, while making audiences laugh. The result of this combination is that the Fathers have raised close to $4 million for charitable purposes.

Appearing with the Flying Fathers are three favorites: Smitty the Clown, a highlight for the children; Sister Mary Shooter, the Flying Nun; and Edward St. Bear, the team's loyal mascot. The hilarious antics provide fun for the entire family: At $5 per person, tickets for the Flying Fathers' appearance would make great stocking stuffers.

Tickets are available at the Quinte Arts Council, The Briar Patch, both Sam the Record Man Stores, Shells and More and Belleville Technical Supplies.

Facing emotional crisis. . .

Board introduces programs to meet needs of students

Growing waiting lists at local social service and mental health agencies and an increase in the number of children with emotional or behavioural problems have led the Northumberland and Newcastle Board of Education to take action.

The board has re-organized its staff and introduced new services to help meet the needs of students. For the Board's psychological services department, this means offering a new consultation and counselling service. It began as a pilot project in the Port Hope area last year.

For the Board's attendance, crisis and social service counsellors, it means restructuring the three positions "so the counsellors work as members of an interdisciplinary team providing services to families of schools," said Charles Kennedy, superintendent of instruction responsible for special education.

Evidence that a change was needed became clear in an informal survey of schools, said Dr. Ray Parthun, chief educational psychologist for the Board. "According to the survey, teachers were concerned about a sizeable number of students whose social, emotional or behavioural difficulties were interfering with their learning and, often, the learning of others. Given such evidence, it was impossible to ignore these needs."

Added Dr. Parthun: "Children who return from school to discover that a parent has left the home; a young child who has access to pornographic videos; students who are victims or are witness to physical or sexual abuse—these are some of the realities of life for some of our students," Dr. Parthun said.

According to Kennedy, "provincial research indicates that in a class of 30 students, five or six will have significant, observable emotional or behavioural difficulties."

Norwood's Derek & Dave Lynch up for car racing tour awards

Norwood - Norwood's racing sensation Derek Lynch and his father Dave are among the nominees for American-Canadian Tour (ACT) post-season awards.

Derek is one of six drivers nominated for the STP Most Improved Driver award, an award presented to tour drivers since 1981. Kevin Lepage won the inaugural award during his second year on the circuit and remains the only driver to win the prize.

Also up for this award are Dan Beede, Danny Knoll Jr., Ron Saldi and Robbie Thompson.

Dave has been nominated for the Rudy Hale Memorial Award for crew chiefs, one of the oldest given out by ACT. Over the years, the honour has gone to the championship winning crew chief only twice, in 1982 and 1988, while one head wrench — Patrick Ossowski — has taken the award three times.

Along with Dave, the nominees this year are Robert Deering, for Brad Leighton; Lloyd Heath for Junior Hanley's championship efforts; Ridor Laperie, who handles wrenches for his brother, Roger; Brian Latuch, of Robbie Crouch's team and Scott Millington, the man who engineered Dan Beede's successful '91 campaign.

Also up for grabs is the Robbie Crouch Rookie of the Year award with Brad Leighton of the Team Annalee/Plum Potter Buick Regal team leading a list which includes Rob Clarke, Donald Forte, John Greedy, Phil Pinkham and Danny Knoll Jr.

Leighton, the 1991 Bosch/BFCP Rookie of the Year, was selected in the three categories he was eligible for.

Nominated for the coveted Sportsmanship Award are Blair Bessett, Jean-Paul Cabana, Junior Hanley, Danny Knoll Jr., Claude Leclerc and Leighton. The Sportsmanship Award was introduced in 1981 and the '91 winner could be the tenth different recipient, unless Leclerc — the first Sportsmanship Trophy winner

I was elated when a member of the United Church approached me with the question "Could you write a letter for us relevant to our church?"

"I sang in the United Church Choir for a number of years and was an active member.

In 1980 I suffered a very serious stroke which rendered me almost totally disabled. With fierce determination, I overcame many obstacles, but climbing stairs is one thing I can never do anymore.

"I would love to go back to my church but I cannot climb the stairs outside or inside. I am 100 per cent sure many, many other people experience the same obstacles. One thing has to be understood, that people, especially with disabilities, want to be closer to God. All have had close contact with death."

"They need the assurance. To be alive is the greatest gift to celebrate and let no barrier, like stairs be in the way. An elevator would be a great gift to our aging and disabled congregation members.

Yours truly,
Jan Scheidt

A negative attitude towards people with disabilities is, in effect, a barrier to knowledge and awareness.

Mitts pattern from Beatrice Lloyd

A few weeks ago I mentioned about knitting mittens for those who have problems getting them off and on, and if anyone had knitting patterns.

Beatrice Lloyd sent me a pattern for knitting mitts with an opening across the palm, so you can get your fingers out without having to take off the whole mitt. The pattern for "Two-Way Mitts" is just what we are looking for!

There is also a pattern for rifle mitts with half finger and thumb, rifle mitts with full finger and thumb, plain mitts, half mitts with finger sections, half mitts without finger sections, gloves, and wristlets.

Beatrice and her family used to knit for the soldiers during World War Two and sent them overseas.

I have made copies for you dear readers. If you wish to have a copy I'll be more than glad to send them to you free! Just send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to: Barbara A. Pealow, RR 2, Campbellford, Ont. K0L 1L0.

Many thanks to Beatrice Lloyd for keeping us warm and for caring.

More Abled Than Disabled Club is having their Christmas party on December 16, 1991, 112 Front St. S., 1:30 to 3:00 p.m. More details next week.

Here's a quick and easy recipe for:

"Spam" Ham Pie

1 can (12 ounces) of Spam, diced
1 medium onion, diced
1 medium green pepper, diced
4 tablespoons of butter or margarine
6 tablespoons flour
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) of cream of celery or mushroom soup
1-1/3 cup of milk
1 tablespoon of lemon juice

The Crust:

1-1/2 cups of biscuit mix
6 tablespoons of milk
1/2 cup shredded sharp cheddar cheese

Preheat oven to 450 F. In a large skillet, saute Spam, onion and green pepper until golden in four tablespoons of butter. Mix flour with soup and milk, and stir into the skillet. Combine well over low heat until smooth. Sprinkle on the lemon juice. Pour mixture into a deep ovenproof casserole dish. To make the crust, mix biscuit mix and cheese in a bowl. Stir in milk and combine well to form a dough. Roll dough out onto a lightly floured board. Cut out biscuits with a cookie cutter, glass jar top, etc. Place biscuits on top of the Spam mixture. Bake all until brown and crusty.

Frozen foods:

My advice to the person that called last week regarding frozen food - keep meat for one year and fruit and vegetables 2 years. If your foods have been frozen for over five years I'd throw out because of bacteria content. Take a real good look at frozen food even if it's fruit.

Chow, see you next week.

Constitutional reform is about many things.

But mostly it's about you.

As Canadians, we are now facing one of the most important challenges in our history. Proposals have been put forward by the Government of Canada to improve our Constitution. These proposals, for a more united and prosperous Canada in which all Canadians can feel at home, are currently being reviewed by a special parliamentary committee. They will also be considered by a series of conferences run by independent Canadian organizations.

Some of the proposals include:

• a Canada clause that speaks of our hopes and dreams as Canadians, our values, our diversity, our tolerance and our generosity of spirit

• recognizing the right of aboriginal peoples to govern themselves while being protected by Canadian law

• ensuring recognition of Quebec's distinctiveness and of minority language groups

• reforming the Senate to make it elected, effective and much more equitable than it is now

• strengthening Canada's economic union so Canadians can work and conduct business anywhere in the country

• guaranteeing property rights.

Get involved and find out more about how these proposals will shape the future of Canada, call toll-free:

Confirms presence of zebra mussels in Kawartha Lakes

Zebra mussels have been detected for the first time in Lake Simcoe and Balsam, Rice and Big Bald (part of Pigeon) Lakes in the Kawarthas, according to the Ministry of Natural Resources. The samples were collected as part of MNR's Zebra Mussel Invasion Monitoring Program.

The zebra mussels were very small, between one and two millimetres in length. While the number of mussels found was low, their presence in three separate locations indicates that they are distributed throughout the Kawartha Lakes.

It is expected that the waters of Lake Simcoe and the Kawarthas will provide the ideal habitat for zebra mussels. All water users can help slow the spread of zebra mussels by following simple procedures available from MNR district offices.

2nd reading for waste reduction foundation

The Waste Management Act, 1991, which provides a new legal foundation for waste reduction efforts across the province, was introduced for Second Reading in the legislature by Environment Minister Ruth Grier.

"The Act provides a framework for accelerating the transition from a consumer society to a conserving society strongly based in the 3Rs—reduce, reuse and recycle," said Mrs. Grier. "It also enables the province to more effectively manage the waste crisis in the Greater Toronto Area."

"This legislation is the means to achieve our targets of more than 25 per cent waste diversion from disposal in 1992

Police release descriptions of masked bank robbers

On November 27th The Toronto Dominion Bank in Havelock was held up by two male persons. The two parties left in a GMC Jimmy. The vehicle was later recovered at a cottage near Belmont Lake. The OPP received a complaint of the theft of a 1978 Olds Cutlass Lic. No. 985BFFK from the same area. Two males involved in the robbery are described as male, white, 5' 8" to 5' 10", 30 to 35 years. No. 1. was fairly large, collar to shoulder length red hair, beard, fu man chu moustache, rough complexion. Wearing a white hooded sweat shirt, grey baggy sweat pants and nylon mask. This man was armed with a knife. No. 2. was tall, slimmer built, rough looking, thick bushy eyebrows, sandy coloured hair and wearing a blue and black jacket with four pockets in front. He was also masked and was armed with a sawed-off, long barrelled weapon. There may or may not have been a third party. Subjects were last seen leaving Havelock in a Jimmy type vehicle going eastbound.

Anyone with information is requested to call the Campbellford OPP or the nearest police department in their area. Callers can call the nearest Crime Stoppers with information.

They will not be asked to leave their name or address when using this service.

On November 25th Van Cross from the Havelock Municipal offices reported a theft from the Hydro office. A male person had used the washroom and taken the money. Staff Sergeant Ernie Bond of the Campbellford detachment observed a suspicious vehicle and contacted the Peterborough detachment. Officers stopped the vehicle and the stolen money was recovered. Jerry Wood of Peterborough was charged with theft.

Also on the 25th, Florence Bradshaw reported a break-in at her cottage on Belmont Lake. A Honda generator and a skisaw were stolen.

On November 29th Campbellford OPP received a report of a break-in at the Brown residence in Seymour Twp. A microwave was reported missing.

During this time the Campbellford OPP laid three liquor charges and issued five 12-hour suspensions.

On November 25th Eleanor Smith of RR 2, Warkworth was eastbound on County Rd. 25 into Warkworth going downhill and lost control due to icy roads. Her vehicle started to slide and hit a fence at the nursing home. Damage was minor to the 1987 Plymouth Reliant.

Maurice Bouillon of RR 1, Campbellford was southbound on County Rd. 25 from Warkworth at 1 p.m. on November 25th when he lost control of his 1985 Chev pick up due to icy conditions and struck several guide posts. There were no injuries but the vehicle received serious damage.

At 8:15 a.m. on November 25th Sharon Boutillier of RR 4, Havelock was southbound on County Rd. 46, about 8 miles north of Havelock, when she lost control on the icy road while coming around a curve. The vehicle entered the west ditch. There were no injuries. The 1989 Dodge truck received moderate damage to the right front and under carriage.

Beverly Naulls of Warkworth was operating a 1991 Ford Tempo on November 25th on County Rd. 50 near Hickory Grove cottages and hit an icy patch and lost control. She slid across the road and entered the west ditch. The vehicle rolled over and received severe damage. Naulls had two passengers in the vehicle. One of the passengers received a minor cut.

On November 28 Bernice Smith of Marmora was eastbound on Hwy 7 near the 2nd Con. of Belmont Twp. when a deer came off the south side and was struck by the vehicle, a 1983 Buick Century. The damage was minor. The deer was killed.

On November 29th Donna Smith of RR 4, Marmora was parked across the Giant Tiger store on River Street in Campbellford. She was backing up in her 1987 Ford GWS when she struck the vehicle parked behind her a 1987 Dodge Shadow. Damage was minor to both vehicles.

On November 30th Harold Johnston of RR 2, Hastings had his 1988 Ford pick-up parked on the 4GA parking lot in Campbellford when unknown Dodge vehicle reversing with passenger door open struck the left rear fender of the Johnston vehicle. A licence similar to XMJ506 was obtained. This was not the correct plate. Anyone with knowledge of this is requested to contact the Campbellford OPP.

and more than 50 per cent by the year 2000. We are tackling a waste management system that has traditionally favored disposal instead of reducing the amount to be disposed of in the first place."

The Act provides the legal authority to allow the government, among other measures, to:

- * require municipalities to account for the full cost of waste management facilities and establish disposal fees which are substantial enough to reflect those true costs;
- * expedite approvals of the 3Rs facilities—such as composting and recycling plants—to remove some of the barriers that impede their establishment;
- * establish mandatory recycling clinging and leaf and yard material composting programs in all larger municipalities;

- * require annual waste audits, implementation of waste reduction action plans and recycling programs in designated larger operations in the industrial, commercial and institutional sectors;
- * expand government jurisdiction over packaging and containers, disposable products and products that pose other waste management problems.

The Act also provides some of the authority essential for the Interim Waste Authority Ltd., to provide provincial leadership to the GTA in establishing long-term disposal facilities and seeing them through the environmental assessment process.

Good Selection of Used Sleds in Stock

c. 1991 by CRAIG NICHOLSON

There are about 300,000 registered snowmobiles in Ontario. This count includes all those unsightly clunkers and abandoned wrecks that litter my backyard and yours.

You know, the ones I'm keeping around "for parts", tinkering, or to bug the wife. Maybe I'll even ride some day. Even so, the count also includes many thousands of active machines.

And where there is activity there are accidents. However, statistics show that the majority of snowmobiling accidents occur on lakes, roads and fields, not on local club-sanctioned snowmobile trails. There are mavericks out there who ride wherever they want with reckless disregard. The conclusion has to be that snowmobile club trails are the safest place to ride.

Which is fortunate since Ontario has an extensive network of marked and groomed trails for your snowmobiling safety and enjoyment. This system operates under the auspices of the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs (OFSC), the umbrella association of almost 300 snowmobile clubs which includes the Ball Mountain Snowmobile Club (Nephton to Apsley), the Havelock and District Snowmobile Club, the Crowe Valley Snowmobile Club (Marmora), the Tweed Snow Scooters, the Centre Hastings Snowmobile Club (Madoc and Eldorado), the Campbellford Snow Knights and the Percy Boom Snowmobile Club, also of Campbellford.

Each club enters into an annual agreement with local property owners to "permit" the privilege of crossing specific portions of their land during the winter months. This privilege carries certain responsibilities. The permission applies only to specific trail corridors, carrying the obligation for each snowmobiler to display an OFSC "permit" and to respect the landowner's property.

Since the permission applies only to the snowmobiles of club members, other sleds and vehicles such as ATV's are trespassing and thereby jeopardize the club's permission agreement with the land owner. Local OFSC wardens patrol their trails in an effort to curb these violators and to protect the land owner's rights and property.

Unlike other provinces and states, the OFSC trail system is user funded. This system has the advantage of not relying on the whim of government support and subsidy, but is vulnerable to the abuse of users who refuse to pay their own way.

Yet the quality and survival of both our local and province-wide trail system is directly dependent on OFSC trail permit sales. Fortunately, this permit fee is the best winter recreation value in the province!

You can snowmobile for the entire OFSC winter for a mere $65 (GST included, $55 if purchased prior to December 15, 1991). Compare that to a day of downhill skiing. What about a whole season's cost?

And the permit fee allows you unlimited access not only to our local trail system, but also to virtually every other snowmobile trail in the province. So you can go where there's snow at no extra cost. That's some deal, dollar for dollar the best around. And that's not all.

"the weekly newspaper column for snowmobilers"

The Best Recreation Value

You will receive the local trail map and newsletters detailing club social activities and events. In addition, the OFSC trail permit includes five copies of "Ontario Snowmobiler" ($2.50 each at the newsstand), a magazine reporting on snowmobiling news and activities. And to help plan your snowmobiling vacation, you will be sent the Ontario Snowmobile Trails Atlas ($9.95) with maps of all provincial OFSC trails. If you're keeping track, that's $22.45 of value from your $65 permit fee and, you still haven't hit the trails.

When you do, remember the priceless reason for buying an OFSC trail permit this year. Your own safety. Trail riding is the safest way to snowmobile and OFSC trails are cleared, groomed, marked and signed. Moreover, your permit fee also are covered during club activity.

Exercising proper driving skills and caution, you and your family or friends can sled safely this winter, while your OFSC membership fee is contributing to the growth and safety of snowmobiling both at home and throughout Ontario.

The more OFSC members there are, the less room there will be for the mavericks. And those old clunkers of mine will stay put. With me just tinkering forever.

Bobbie Christie scores twice in Norwood atom win

Norwood - Bobbie Christie scored twice to pace the Lake-way Automotvie atoms to a 7-4 win over Marmora Friday night.

The teams were tied 1-1 after the first period with Robbie Sedgwick and Ken Forbes trading goals.

Forbes scored to open the second period but Christie came back to even things up again. Marmora went ahead three minutes later when Rob Gravelle scored but Patrick Quinlan's goal with 43 seconds left on the clock evened the score heading into the final period.

The final frame was all

Norwood with Chris Pulfer, Brad Watts, Chris Van Will and Christie striking for the black and gold. Ryan Devlin replied for Marmora.

Picking up two assists wer Luke Fallis and Jason Begg while Pulfer, Quinlan and Watts added one each.

Bemersyde IODE holds meeting

The November meeting of Bemersyde chapter IODE was held at the Arc Industries' building. The regent, Eva Fraser, read a poem following which she welcomed Lillian Fox back from her confinement following surgery.

A bequest from the estate of the late Georgia Maybee, a beloved member, was gratefully received. A letter was read informing the members that 103 Labrador children will be kept warm this winter thanks to the generous donation of snowsuits and clothing sent to them.

A letter of appreciation from Community Care was received for the books donated to their library. Also the Beehive Daycare Centre thanked the chapter for the food processor presented to them recently. It will be useful to prepare the food for the children.

The visitors to the Hillsdale home in December are Fleta Stillman and Teresa Shaw. Helen Vice and Mary Watters will visit the sick and shut-in.

The treasurer, Marilyn Murray, explained the various committees at headquarters and how we might support them. The members decided to send $729 to the national headquarters and $615 to the provincial office. It was decided to support the Salvation Army with a donation of $200 for their Christmas baskets and to buy candy for the Santa Claus parade.

Marilyn Murray was nominated as provincial counsellor and Marie Locke. A committee was chosen to plan the annual dinner in February. Selected were Cheryl Smith, Shirley Druif, Lois Stapley, Fleta Stillman, Marilyn Murray, Annabelle McCormick and Nancy Parsons.

Chris Whitfield read a letter of appreciation from the adopted school in Labrador. The teacher from the school thanked the chapter for the books, toques and mitts sent to the children. She explained the fishing was not very good this past summer and the people of Labrador are faced with a difficult winter.

Helen Vice and Eva Fraser will present a new flag to the Girl Guides. Betsy Thompson thanked the chapter for the baby gift for her new boy.

The evening closed with an interesting and informative talk by Marie Locke about the trip she and her husband Murray enjoyed in Denmark, Sweden, Finland, Russia and Germany. Marie said Denmark has 30 per cent inflation and every home flies their national flag. She noted how lucky we in Canada are in comparison to the Russian people who have difficulty finding the basic food staples. The members returned home feeling very grateful.

Anglers snubbed but commercial harvest increased by province

Anglers who played a primary role revitalizing the eastern Lake Ontario walleye fishery have been told they won't be allowed to catch more fish.

But the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources has announced it is allowing commercial fishing operations to sell more walleye they catch incidentally south and west of Prince Edward County.

Commercial operations licensed to catch whitefish in November are allowed to sell more walleye that they incidentally net along with their legal whitefish quotas.

The decision to allow commercial fishermen to sell more of the walleye has outraged anglers who abided by a limit reduction from six to four fish in order to revitalize the eastern Lake Ontario stock, said Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters' vice-president Rick Morgan.

"After agreeing to catch less fish in the name of conservation, these anglers are now being told they can't share in the abundance that has been created through their actions," Morgan said. "It's ridiculous and it has many dedicated conservationists angry. They are not seeing any reward for their actions."

Morgan said that the increased harvest of walleye should have been shared between commercial and recreational interests. He said the province continues to ignore facts indicating that sport-fisheries contribute significantly to the economy, particularly in areas like eastern Ontario. For example,

* In direct revenue alone, the Ontario government receives over $105 million from fishing licences and sales tax on related fishing purchases.

* The Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources spends no more than $59 million each year on fisheries management and conservation, so the government is making a net profit of over $45 million from recreation fishermen every year.

Pro Life group meets in Frankford

The 4th annual meeting of the Frankford Area Right-To-Life was attended by 25 proliferers and presided over by Mrs. Maria Heissler. Her opening remarks of gratitude for the work achieved and encouragement for the immense task ahead were based on the Word of God and on her question: "Have we been successful?"

The guest speaker, Fr. Brian Price agreed with her answer that in the eyes of the world not much may seem to be accomplished but in the eyes of God, however, we stood up for life, and that is what counts.

Father Price spoke about the importance of perseverance because: our determination because of the goal to be achieved and secondly our constant fidelity to principles.

"Everyone," he said, "has the right to existence and no one has the right to remove it. When people start making exceptions there is no longer any consistency."

Besides these two virtues we must have charity and respect for others and by this attitude win hearts. Along with this comes the activity of prayers because our abilities and talents are limited; God only can determine the end result.

We can be sure that the Life Chain of Oct. 6 has lasting repercussions through the witness of 1,350 people in the Belleville-Trenton area. Success was achieved if only one person changed their mind or was willing to re-examine a previous pro-abortion stand.

Encouraging, therefore, was the article in the Trentonian by Ms. Black, which Fr. Price read in its entirety.

"We must remember," Fr. Price concluded, quoting Scripture that "we are mere servants. We have done no more than our duty." Mrs. Heissler commented, "if only one life was saved, it was worth it."

The second guest was Jeremy Van Duyvendyk, who entertained by singing his own composition, a thank you to God for the precious gift of life and thus encouraged us to keep on fighting for life.

A thank you letter was received from Jennifer Smith, a student of St. Paul's High School in Trenton, who was sponsored by the Frankford Area Right to Life to attend the Canadian Youth for Life weekend in November.

Our proposed constitution was discussed and accepted by the membership as was the slate of officers nominated for the new executive by Rev. T. Murray Richardson, seconded by Frank Weyer.

The following executive was elected: Past-president, Maria Heissler; President, Barry Riley; Vice-president, Veronica Hendrick; Secretary, Murray Richardson; Treasurer, Frank Weyer; Membership, Doris Vreugdenhil; Publicity, Anthony Kutschrutter; Area representatives: Trenton - Mary Psihogious, Shirley Beckwith; Madoc - Willie Kutschrutter; Brighton -

Maria Slack and Batawa - Al Fedun.

Mrs. Heissler, who worked untiringly for Life over the past three years in her capacity as president, was given proper recognition with a warm and lengthy applause.

Some of last years accomplishments:

- * Affiliating the Trenton & Madoc groups to Frankford Area;

- * An annual banquet in February with Lorne Shepherd as guest speaker;

- * Five municipalities proclaiming "Respect for Human Life Week" in May;

- * Four public libraries accepting 20 Pro-Life books for circulation;

- * 3,000 Pro-Life placemats given to Senior Citizens Home from Marmora to Trenton on Mother's Day.

- * A number of proliferers purchasing memberships on local hospital boards;

- * Organizing two local forums as a result of participating in the Citizens Forum of Canada's Future;

- * An annual Walk-A-Thon in Trenton attracting 150 participants and raising over $6,000 - for Belleville's Pregnancy Crisis Centre and Birthright as well as area groups.

Mrs. Heissler also proposed a bus be chartered to take proliferers to Ottawa to give support to Fr. Van Hee in his vigil for Life on Parliament Hill.

Mrs. John Baker, a Christian and concerned parent, was then introduced to clarify the government's proposed Bill 125 which is to amend the present Education Act and which will remove Section 50, thereby stripping parents and guardians of all rights regarding Education Programs including religious instruction in public schools and transferring all power to the Minister of Education.

All were invited to challenge the minister's Policy Advisor Keith Baird who was to be one of four panelists at a public meeting at the Quinte Alliance Church in Belleville.

Before adjourning the meeting the new president Barry Riley acknowledged that he was coming into this position as both a learner and a worker and that he intends to increase the Frankford Area Right to Life membership and thereby increase and divide the workload. He was pleased to accept the challenge ahead.

Tell her again why it's "ok" that daddy's not paying his family support.

A lot of fathers* in Ontario who are supposed to be paying family support, aren't. And it's time we got mad about it. Because they're hurting their kids - our kids - and they're hurting you and me.

It's not "ok" that over 80,000 kids are going without more than $400 million in support payments.

It's not "ok" that three-quarters of all family support isn't being paid the way it should be.

It's not "ok" that over $140 million of our tax dollars have gone to families who were forced to turn to social assistance because their support payments were not being made.

The Ontario Government's new Family Support Plan will introduce automatic wage deduction of support payments, and specify to whom and when they apply.

Because children shouldn't have to be told that daddy's not paying family support.

Please send me more information about automatic wage deduction in the new Family Support Plan Act.

What is Skills Quinte?

If you are currently unemployed or are thinking of getting some re-training then Skills Quinte is the place you should know more about.

Established over 10 years ago, Skills Quinte, is a multi-faceted service designed to assist both those seeking upgrading and potential employers within the community. In 1979 the Quinte Community Industrial Training Committee (QCITC) was established as an employer-based advisory group to identify and address skills shortages in the community.

This initiative was based on the philosophy of establishing local industry as part of the decision-making process of addressing training needs in a local area.

In 1986 QCITC took on the additional responsibility of providing the training programs to address these needs on a cost free basis to the employer. At this time the QCITC was revamped and became the "Quinte Community Training Committee". In 1987 the committee was incorporated and on May 5, 1988 the business name of "Skills Quinte" was adopted.

Skills Quinte objectives:

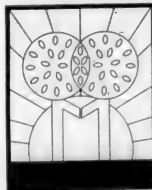

- 1) To identify existing and potential shortages of skills in the current future workforce within the community.
- 2) To develop, fund, implement and monitor training programs to address training needs in the community.
- 3) To act as an information clearing house to local employers on matters of eligibility, funding and incentives for training.
- 4) To continually analyse the changing needs in our community in order to provide effective training programs in the future.
- 5) To promote Skills Quinte within our community and to involve more community partners so that individuals can directly benefit from our efforts.

Members of Skills Quinte sees themselves as "Community partners working together to create training and social adjustment activities thereby providing individuals with fair access to relevant information and training that will ensure a competitive, informed and skilled workforce in our communities."

of $2,000 in the first year. Fairs seeking funding will still have to meet Agriculture Canada's criteria for funding. Scott said

Agriculture Canada's criteria includes displays that show market development, introduce new education and technology, show training and education or develop agricultural awareness. As long as an individual fair's proposed display meets one of the four criteria it is eligible for funding, Scott said. In the past Agriculture Canada has sunk most of its funding into having large livestock shows at a few large fairs, but Scott said now they feel they can get "more bang for their buck" by promoting more smaller fairs.

Scott said more information on the funding agreement will be released at the OAA's annual meeting in February.

Madoc

"On December 14, 1991, Cindy Carlson of Madoc will be able to call her fiancé, speak to a cousin and fax a customer in Belleville without Long Distance Charges."

When a majority of the Madoc area residents and businesses suggested an improvement to their local telephone service, Bell Canada responded.

In a recent survey, customers preferred the convenience of expanded local area calling service, at adjusted, regular monthly rates, rather than

"per call" long distance charges.

Starting December 14, 1991, Two-Way local calling will be introduced between Madoc and Belleville.

Complete details of this expanded service were included as an insert in your last Account Billing.

Ex-Madoc student graduates 30 years later

by Scott Woodhouse

Thirty years after he walked out of Madoc High in Grade 11, Jim Anglin was finally able to pick up his high school diploma a few weeks ago.

And, although there wasn't as much pomp and circumstance as there was at the commencement ceremony, Anglin was probably more aware of his achievement than may of the younger high school students who received their diplomas on Friday night.

Anglin who says he is "sneaking up on 50" left high school in 1961 due to a combination of economic factors and poor grades.

In the years since, he has found that not having his high school diploma has prevented him from upgrading his education.

"I always felt cheated that I didn't have my high school diploma," he said Monday nigh before receiving his diploma. "Whenever I wanted to take a course I always had to have some pre-requisite, so I ended up taking two or three courses just to get the one I needed."

Anglin has lived in Meaford for seven years and works for RBW Graphics in Owen Sound. He started taking night school courses in 1988 with the goal of finally completing his high school education.

Gerda Besworth, night school administrator says Jim was one of her best students.

"I don't think he had one mark under 90," she said.

To complete his high school education, Anglin was required to complete four credit courses. "I had Grade 10 and they let my experience in life count for a few credits," he joked.

But the best part about getting his diploma was the man who presented it to him.

In 1961, a Meaford man by the name of Les Boyle was the principal of Madoc High School.

"I found out that my old principal was originally from Meaford and that he was living here now," said Anglin. "I thought it would be nice if he could present me with my diploma."

"I'll be honest with you, I was very well acquainted with Mr. Boyle during my years at Madoc High," he said. "My home room teacher's favorite line was 'you better go see Mr. Boyle.'"

Mr. Boyle was happy to present the diploma to Jim and the two spent time remembering teachers and students from 30 years ago.

For Jim Anglin, getting his high school diploma, was a definite case of better late than never.

Village Council adopts resolution

Madoc Village Council voted to adopt a Township of Limerick resolution to urge changes to the Environmental Protection Act.

The resolution which was circulated to the village and all the municipalities in Ontario asks the Ministry of Environment to amend Part 7, Section 37 (1) of the Environmental Protection Act to allow inspection, and correction if necessary, of sewage systems that were installed before April 15, 1974.

The resolution states that the current part of the act limits municipalities in objecting to known cases of grossly inadequate systems that are possibly polluting lakes and altering the water quality.

Madoc Village council voted unanimously to adopt the resolution.

No answer from investor on Granmarble project

by Jeff Wilson

The new investor who came forward just a week ago has not confirmed his investment on the Hastings County plant, Granmarble and Granite Inc. CEO Tom Watson said.

In an interview last Friday, Watson said the investor received the financial package on the project last Tuesday and he expected an answer this week.

The new investor told Watson he could finance the entire $10 million needed for the project by himself. Before he came forward only an Italian bank had shown an interest in investing in the proposed Madoc Township plant. Favor had definitely shifted towards the Elliot Lake site, which had three investors willing to invest in that project.

Watson said once the investors have entered investment packages, the next step will be to make a choice on the proposed two sites.

Public meeting to discuss changes to Education Act

The residents of North Hastings are holding a public meeting in the Royal Canadian Legion Hall, in Bancroft on Dec. 13 to discuss changes to the Education Act proposed by the NDP provincial government.

In Bill 125, a major change involves removal of parental rights, section 50, from the Act. This would empower the Minister of Education - not parents or boards of education to determine the kind of religious education a child shall receive in public schools.

The rights of parents and students to have religious education which conforms to their own beliefs has been protected in the Education Act since before Confederation as follows:

- 1) Subject to the regulations a public shall be allowed to receive such religious instruction as his parents or guardian desires, or where the pupil is an adult, as he desires.
- 2) No pupil in a public school should be required to read or study in or from a religious book or to join in an exercise devotion or religion, objected to by his parent or guardian, by the pupil, where he is an adult.

Full public discussion needed about the significance of Section 50. If it needs amendment to ensure its application conforms to the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, no doubt, this could be added.

Bill 125 is ready for second reading and it is critical that public be aware of the motivation of the government attempting to quietly discard the parental right protected in Section 50.

A large public meeting was held on this matter to place in Belleville on Nov. 2 and a similar public meeting scheduled for Dec. 13 at 7 p.m. at the Legion Hall, 16 Station St., in Bancroft.

The provincial government will be represented at the meeting by MPP and Minister of Education.

Vankoughnet supports White Ribbon

Violence against women will end when men taken an active role to stop it, says local MP Bill Vankoughnet.

"It's time for men to take an active role in the fight to end violence against women," Vankoughnet said in a press release supporting the recent White Ribbon Campaign to mark the anniversary of the 1989 Montreal massacre at L'Ecole Polytechnique. "This campaign gives us a place to start. Men have been part of the problem, it's now up to us to become part of the solution."

Vankoughnet joined many notable Canadians like businessman Peter Bronfman, former Toronto mayor David Crombie, and Ovide Mercredi, National Chief, Assembly of First Nations, in participating in the campaign.

The White Ribbon Campaign, launched at a press conference in Toronto on Nov. 27, urged men to wear a ribbon or display one on their cars, houses or at their work places from Dec. 1-6.

Also at the press conference were former Olympic athlete Bruce Kidd, Leo Gerard, Canadian Director of United Steelworkers of America and Ron Sluser, a college instructor and a campaign organizer.

Extend campaign

In a statement released at the conference, the organizers note that "men have helped to create a climate of fear and mistrust among women" and that "women are imprisoned in a culture of violence."

This effort to end violence against women should go farther, Vankoughnet says.

"While I laud the efforts of the White Ribbon Campaign to end violence against women, we should extend the campaign to end all violence in our society, whether it is against children, adults, seniors or the unborn."

"All parts of society must be held accountable for their actions. As we have seen recently in the news, violence does not necessarily come as the result of a gun. I have long advocated tougher sentencing, capital punishment and rehabilitation as deterrents to violence."

Waiting for Santa... - These two tots were getting comfortable on a cushy snowbank along Forsyth St., in anticipation of the Marmora Santa Claus parade last Saturday afternoon. They were not disappointed when St. Nick himself made an appearance as usual, at the end of the line of floats and other entries. The weather was a little wet but this didn't seem to dampen the enthusiasm of the spectators young and old who lined the streets to watch the festivities. The parade was ably organized by the Marmora Lions Club for the second year in a row.

ment system. The ministers also agreed to continue pressing for reductions in export subsidies, blamed for driving commodity prices to near-record lows.

The minister quoted Bill McKnight, federal agricultural minister, as saying no agreement has yet been made in the current GATT negotiations.

"Europe and the US have not yet found common ground," Buchanan said. "I reiterated our view (to McKnight) that it is essential that the federal government protect supply management at these talks.

"Supply management is a fair and efficient way for our farmers to earn a decent living from the marketplace and has a stabilizing effect on the entire food chain."

Buchanan told the dealers that Ontario is putting in $118 million as its share in the latest federal farm assistance package.

Grain markets growing

In other agricultural news, the export markets for Ontario grains and oilseeds have grown with corn and soybeans competitively priced in eastern block countries such as Russia and Romania, Buchanan says.

These products are also moving well in the United States, he told the annual meeting of the Ontario Grain and Feed Dealers Association.

On the negative side, domestic volumes are still low due to downsizing in the cattle industry and a reduced demand for feed.

Dec. 10 International Human Rights Day

December 10 is the anniversary of the adoption of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights by the United Nations. It gives us an opportunity to pause and reflect on the progress we have made, and to strengthen our commitment to make our society more just and equitable.

Since 1948, when the Universal Declaration was proclaimed, there has been much progress around the world. The Convention on the Rights of the Child was adopted by the United Nations, and will be ratified by Canada this year.

Not everyone in Canada enjoys human rights and freedoms; discrimination still exists. Faced with the inequities experienced by women, Aboriginal peoples, persons with disabilities, and visible minorities, we must redouble our efforts so that we can all be equal members of our society.

Together we can build a country to match our aspirations.

Ontario, BC back supply management in GATT talks

The agriculture ministers of Ontario and British Columbia have urged the federal government to toughen its position defending the supply management system at the GATT talks, which are expected to result in a solid agreement on agriculture before Christmas. Elmer Buchanan, Ontario minister of agriculture and food, and Bill Barlee, BC minister of agriculture, fisheries and food, conferred in Toronto and agreed to a united position on the trade negotiations.

"Mr. Barlee and I agreed that our negotiators must continue to defend our supply management system," Buchanan said. "We urge the federal government not to blink in the face of opposition during this crucial period of the talks."

The supply management system used in both provinces is based on government payments to farmers using a quota system, regardless whether the market can sustain their products.

"Thousands of farmers and rural communities right across the country will be adversely affected," Barlee said. "If the supply management system is compromised under the GATT. This is why we're standing firm in our conviction that Article XI of the agreement must be strengthened and clarified."

Article XI of the GATT allows countries to restrict the import of food under certain conditions. Supply management in Canada meets these conditions by controlling domestic production of such products as poultry, eggs and milk. Uncertainties over interpretations of Article XI have raised farmers' concerns on their ability to continue operating under the supply manage-

Goju Ryu action: Jeff Reid of Norwood watches two of his Goju Ryu karate students spar during a workout Thursday evening at Norwood High School. Registration for the popular adult and children's karate classes can be done anytime by phoning the Peterborough County Board of Education at 743-7431. Jeff is also inviting anyone who is interested in learning more about his classes to visit the school Monday, Jan. 6 for a demonstration of the Goju Ryu technique. Last year, Jeff also held a very popular women's self defence class at the South Dummer Community Centre. If there is similar interest this year, he would like to run another class. Photo/Bill Freeman

Norwood High's 'satellite' classroom offers alternative form of education

Norwood - The involvement of adults in Norwood High School's academic community has grown over the last few years and is now recognized as a tremendously vital part of the school's character.

And over the last two years, with the creation of an off-campus "satellite classroom," NDHS has added a new dimension to the opportunities it can offer adult students and others wanting to fulfill educational goals.

"For a number of years, NDHS has encouraged adults in the community to come to the school and enrol in courses," says Ron Scott of the NDHS Co-operative Education department.

"We at the school believe this is a positive move for all concerned," Mr. Scott explains, and "in the case of the adults, they may obtain that long sought-after graduation diploma or they may update skills so they can be more aware or embark on a new career or attend college and university."

"The school gains from the presence of the adults overall tone and by our knowledge that the adults accumulated over the years," he says. "Over the last two semesters this plan has been extended to include a satellite form of education."

Off-campus classroom

The school is now offering a satellite classroom campus in the FUTURES office at Norwood town hall. The NDHS is offering courses to students of all ages, "unable or unwilling to attend the regular classes for one reason or another."

The reasons why potential beneficiaries alternate program do to use the regular campus are "quite varied, unlimited in scope," he says, and can range from dislike for the school to work commitments.

THE INTREPID SNOWMOBILER

Most Snowmobilers Are Not Certifiable

c.1991 by CRAIG NICHOLSON, All Rights Reserved

I'm a snowmobiler and I'm upset. Every year there are media reports of snowmobiling accidents that by inference and omission create the impression that anyone who snowmobiles is either dangerous or certifiable. I prefer to think it's bad breath.

Not that snowmobiling can't be dangerous. That potential always exists when motion, hard objects, and humanity combine. Like when I got beamed at a Blue Jays' game. But that doesn't mean that all snowmobilers are reckless. Or that all snowmobiles are wrecked. Or that all spectators get ball-bopped.

Most media reports state that so and so was injured or killed while snowmobiling near such and such a place. They may indicate that a rock or a car or a tree was involved, they never miss the opportunity to say that snowmobiling is too thin. What they rarely say are the real reasons behind the accident.

Was excess speed a contributing factor? Most snowmobiling accidents involve control or going too fast. With the recent introduction of muscle sleds are increasing. Certain manufacturers must assume some responsibility for acceleration, but the sensible drivers of these machines are the real snowmobilers. But not every snowmobiler owns a high performance sled. Or abuses it.

Do we need to go so fast? We need to have the enforcement trail speed limit. They do in some New

If countries were involved, we'd call it a war. If it was a disease, we'd call it an epidemic. If it was an oil spill, we'd call it a disaster. But it's happening to women, and it's just an everyday affair. It is violence against women. It is rape at home and on dates. It is the beating or the blow that one out of four Canadian women receive in their lifetime. It is sexual harassment at work and sexual abuse of the young. It is murder.

There's no secret enemy pulling the trigger. No unseen virus that leads to death. It's just men. Men from all social backgrounds and of all colours and ages. Men in business suits and men in blue collars. Men who plant the fields and men who sell furniture. Not weirdos. Just regular guys.

All those regular guys, though, help create a climate of fear and mistrust among women. Our sisters and our mothers, our daughters and our lovers can no longer feel safe in their homes. At night they can't walk to the corner for milk without wondering who's walking behind them. It's hard for them to turn on the TV without seeing men running amok in displays of brutality against women and other men. Even the millions of women in relationships with that majority of men who are gentle and caring feel they cannot totally trust men. All women are imprisoned in a culture of violence.

Men's violence against women isn't abhorrent behaviour. Men have created cultures where men use violence against other men, where we wreak violence on the natural habitat, where we see violence as the best means to solve differences between nations, where every boy is forced to learn to fight or be branded a sissy, and where men have forms of power and privilege that women do not enjoy.

Men have been defined as part of the problem. But we are writing this statement because we think men can also be part of the solution. Confronting men's violence requires nothing less than commitment to full equality for women and a redefinition of what it means to be men, to discover a meaning to manhood that doesn't require blood to be spilled.

With all of our love, respect and support for the women in our lives:

- * Men were urged to hang a white ribbon from their house, their car, or at their workplace and to wear a white ribbon or armband from December 1st through December 6th, the second anniversary of the Montreal massacre. The white ribbon symbolizes a call for all men to lay down their arms in the war against our sisters.
- * We ask unions, professional associations, student councils, corporations and government bodies to make this an issue of priority, starting with the circulation of this statement.
- * We urge all levels of government to radically increase their funding to rape crisis centres, shelters for battered women, and for services to treat men who batter.

* We call for large-scale educational programs for police and judges, in work places and schools on the issue of men's violence.

* We commit ourselves to think about sexism in our own words and deeds and to change sexism around us. We urge all Canadian men to do the same. * We urge men to circulate this statement to other men, to send donations to women's groups or to the White Ribbon Campaign to help continue this work. * We ask the media to show their concern by reprinting and broadcasting this statement in full.

(The above information was provided by Hal Bushey, Director of Community Living)

(This was sent to me by my friend Marie, Toronto).

How to Avoid, or Defend Yourself Against Sexual Attack

- * Be wary of unknown repairmen or salesmen. Ask for identification before opening your door.
- * Don't broadcast the fact that you live alone or with other women. List only your last name and initial on the mailbox and in the phone book.
- * Check for suspicious looking men before entering or leaving check to see if anyone is hiding in the rear seat or on the rear floor. If you're alone in a car, keep the doors locked and the windows rolled up.

* If attacked, first try to talk the man out of raping you. You might tell him you're pregnant or that you have syphilis or AIDS. Stall for time, in the hope that you will get a chance to break away or call for help.

* If you think someone is following you, head for the nearest lighted or inhabited area. Do not go directly home if there is no adult male there.

* Before entering your car, or elevator, have the key to your door in hand. If attacked in an elevator, press the emergency button and as many floor buttons as you can. * Don't walk alone at night in dark areas. When walking, keep a steady pace and look as if you know where you're going.

* If no weapon is available, fight back physically only if you feel you can do so with telling effect.

states? Does the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs (OFSC) need to consider prohibiting muscle machines from our trails? Like on our highways, speed is a contributing factor in too many snowmobiling accidents. But that doesn't mean that all snowmobilers are reckless speeders.

Is the accident alcohol related? Most are. The sad truth is that too many people drink and drive. It happens on our highways, so it's no surprise on the snow. Too many do on a snowmobile what they might never do in their car. Too few realize that they can lose their driver's license or insurability from snowmobile drinking offences. The Ministry of Tourism & Recreation (MTR), in cooperation with the OFSC Safety Committee, has launched a "RIDE SAFE, RIDE SOBER" and "BOOZE 'N SNOW DON'T Darkness is another contributing factor. Night driving involves differences in visual perception, temperature and snow conditions that can be lethal. The assumption that one can safely drive off into the night has seen too many snowmobilers lost or injured or worse. How many deaths occur in familiar locale because the rider has become disoriented? Danger happens faster at night and personally, I no longer ride after dark because I don't like the odds. And many other snowmobilers do likewise.

Media reports that do indicate a collision with a rock or a car or a tree, or even another machine, often fail to say where the accident occurred. Most do not happen on OFSC trails. So the victims were not snowmobiling in the right place. So whose fault is that? Certainly not that of the thousands of snowmobilers who regularly use OFSC trails without incident.

The same applies to going through that all-too-thin ice. Clubs try to route trails to avoid water crossings entirely, or to cross bridges, or at worst, to choose the safest crossings possible and mark them well. The great majority of drownings happen elsewhere, where no one has gone before, where the day-to-day conditions are in doubt, or where there simply was no ice. If you don't know, don't go, and if in doubt, ask. But the fact is that most drownings do not occur on OFSC trails, so what does that say about where you should be riding?

Rarely do I read that the deceased was not wearing a helmet, or that there were three people on a one-person machine, or that the driver was inexperienced or that horseplay was involved or that many of the other contributing factors occurred simultaneously. Just that there was another accident. Another crazy snowmobiler down. Another tragic incident in a lunatic sport. Are we all so dangerous and reckless and careless? I think not.

Police and media reports should contain all the facts, both to promote snowmobiling safety and to encourage local sledders who snowmobile with caution, control and care. Then designed to overcome these barriers while at the same time providing an academic program to fit the needs of each individual student.

This way, students can pick up high school credits, upgrade skills or participate in the EPYC centre's FUTURES program without having to attend a class at Norwood High -- although all the resources available at NDHS will be accessible to alternative education students.

"This is very flexible," Mr. Scott said, adding that students can start at any time. Much is done through special independent study courses that are set up for each student; students can have daily contact with teachers involved in the programs.

One series of course includes sections on entrepreneurship, personal life management, well being and aging.

The NDHS alternative education program can also provide literacy skills help through the Trent Valley Literacy Association -- this organization is prepared to run one-on-one or group workshops in Norwood if there is enough interest in the area.

The Literacy Association is also capable of providing "English as a Second Language (ESL)" classes in Norwood, as well, Mr. Scott said.

"We feel that we are now able to extend the program that we are offering to include upgrading literacy skills and maybe my friends will come out from behind their smirks. And I'll wear my snowmobile helmet to the ball park next summer.

Gramma Flo's Oldtimers hang tough in Marmora tourney

Marmora - Although they failed to claim a divisional title, the Gramma Flo's Oldtimers, played very well and were extremely pleased with their efforts during the Marmora Oldtimer's tourney the weekend of Nov. 30.

In their first outing, Norwood was edged 3-1 by Campbellford in a fast-paced match that featured a great deal of end-to-end action.

The first two frames was a goaltending duel between Norwood's Rob Irving and Campbellford's Dan Lytle with the two stoppers pulling off a number of excellent saves to keep the score 0-0.

Campbellford finally got on the board with goals from Pat Kerr and Al Partington to forge a 2-0 lead but Norwood's Bill Chapman, with help from Bob Steenburgh and Larry Bell, closed the gap two minutes later.

Pushing for the equalizer, Irving was pulled for the extra attacker but it was Campbellford that scored, with 27 seconds left, to ensure a 3-1 win.

In game two, the Gramma Flo's squad faced off against a big Coboconk team that was not shy about mixing it up.

The Coboconkers went up 1-0 early in the game but Chapman, with assists again from Bell and Steenburgh, evened things up. Norwood's foes went up 2-1 early in the third period but the black and gold fought back determinedly until, with three minutes left, Mike Heffernan cashed in the tying goal.

Frank English and Rae Scott helped out on Heffernan's marker.

Unfortunately, Coboconk, with 1:20 left on the clock, would succeed on a screen shot and took the game 3-2.

An 8 am Sunday meeting with the Tweed Old Farmers proved to be extremely generous to Norwood's goalscorers as they surged to a 3-3 win. Steenburgh opened the scoring with Chapman and Bell picking up assists only to have the Old Farmers counter with two quick goals at the end of the first period.

However, Norwood turned on the jets in the final frame and dominated the score sheet with four straight goals by Heffernan (from Scott), Chapman (from Steenburgh and Big George Terspra), Heffernan again (from Jim Manley and Bernie Gannon) and finally Fred Rogers (from Frank English and Heffernan) made it 5-2.

Norwood would allow one more goal but skated away with a strong 5-3 win.

Rob Irving played all three games in net and gave up only eight goals to earn the Purple Shoes award. The Norwood stopper, who wore his award-winning shoes home, was last seen deep in conversation with Grant Fuhr's agent.

Anchoring the Norwood defence were Fred Rogers, George Terspra, Richard Watts and Jim Rogers. On the three forward lines were Larry Bell, Bob Steenburgh and Bill Chapman; Frank English, Rae Scott and Mike Heffernan; Bill Scott, Jim Manley and Bernie Gannon.

A special thanks must go out to Norwood's coach Merle Hannon who handled the coaching and managerial duties with aplomb.

"We are adaptable, so if you are interested contact us," Mr. Scott says. "We are interested in you."

Madoc Public School students were rehearsing their Christmas Concert last week. The concert will run for two nights, Dec. 17 and 18.

The Heart of Hastings Hospice News

The Provisional Board of The Heart of Hastings Hospice was set up to look at the feasibility of opening a house in some area of Centre Hastings to do hospice care for cancer patients. It was decided that to purchase, renovate, restore or build a building at this time was far out of our reach. Therefore, our long-term goal is to have a guiding to give hospice care in, if, short term goal is to go into the persons home and give the same kind of care. The volunteer would support and assist the patient as well as the care giver. The volunteer would do the things a good neighbor would do or perform as an extended family member giving the care giver "time out" or time to rest.

Hospice in the Middle Ages meant a place that gave hospitality -- an inn for weary travellers, strangers and guests. This Inn was kept by a religious order. It was our understanding that anyone could go there and it was provided without fee. Today Hospice has come to mean holistic -- the entire. Hospice is a program of total care designed to meet the special needs of the terminally ill and those close to them in whatever setting is appropriate. Hospice care can be done in a free standing building, a hospital or in an individuals home. The purpose for hospice care is comfort for the patient and support emotionally, spiritually and physically for the patient and the family.

The months of this year have moved along quickly and it seems, for the temporary board of The Heart of Hastings Hospice the time has also move quickly but, quietly we have accomplished several things. Our bylaws have been set, and we have become incorporated, and we have received, our non-profit organization number. Our first volunteer Training Program is set up to start Jan. 13 from 7-9 p.m. at the Community Resource Centre on Russell St. in Madoc. This training will be each Monday evening for eight weeks.

It is our hope that as of March we will be able to accept referrals to assist and support in homes of people with cancer. We will be able to accept a request for volunteer help from a family member, a patient, a doctor or a nurse.

The Heart of Hastings Hospice has already had some calls for our assistance so it is important that we continue to move along quickly but, it is also important that we train sufficient volunteers to be able to fulfill requests efficiently.

If you are interested in being a volunteer and are not on our present volunteer list please call 478-2215 to request and application. Volunteers do not have to have a medical background.

If any organization wishes to do a fund raising activity for The Heart of Hastings Hospice please contact Rev. George Beals so the board members can help you or participate in the function. We sincerely thank all of those folk who have held fundraising activities for the cause and also thank those who have participated in the functions.

If any organizations would like a speaker about the hospice please contact Doris Bush or Deloras McCoy.

Beavers on display - The Marmora Beaver Troupe was one of many village organizations which entered a float in the Marmora Santa Claus parade last Saturday afternoon. The parade, organized by the Marmora Lions Club, impressed the big crowd of spectators who braved the wet weather to watch the festivities. The new version of the Marmora Village Council also made an appearance in the parade.

CHSS NEWS

by Chandler Lauzon

Winter is DEFINITELY here, and that means Christmas is on the way. At CHSS, there are no exceptions as Student Council, Intramurals and the Concert Band have many plans to liven up the halls in the coming weeks before the holidays. Included in these festivities are annual events like Christmas Sharing and cuddling with Santa, as well as new events like a "Ho Ho Ho" Contest and the band's renditions of Christmas tunes in CHSS' main foyer.

Christmas Sharing is a good-will event organized by the Intramural Council. The purpose is for homerooms to create a "food-box" of certain items. The result is CHSS making a mini food bank, which is then donated to a local worthwhile charitable organization, for distribution to those in need this holiday season. Students and staff are urged to participate in this very giving event.

Students themselves will be entertained during the final week before the holidays by various activities. Fowl Shooting (don't ask! actually, it's shooting rubber chickens through the basketball hoop) and a Ho Ho Ho contest are on schedule of course, a visit from jolly old Saint Nick makes the week complete...

On the athletic front, the girls volleyball and boys basketball teams, as well as boys and girls curling squad. The volleyball teams begin their season next week, for midgets, juniors and defending COSSA champ seniors. The basketball and curling teams are enjoying successful seasons particularly that boys curling team who seem to be beating everyone in sight!

Finally, this week, Miss O'Riordan has done it again! She arranged for yet another speaker to talk to students about South African issues. The Trent University student spoke at CHSS on Dec. 10 on issues ranging from race relations to apartheid to South African reform. This was an informative session for all students involved.

Check out this column next week for more news on Christmas events like the upcoming CHSS Christmas Auction.

Madoc Minor Hockey Report

Junior Tykes:

On Nov. 30 Madoc's youngest, future hockey stars met Bancroft for their first game of the season. For many of the junior tykes this game was the very first of their hockey careers. Each and every member of our team put in a good effort. However, the junior Jets captured the win. The Madoc Minor Hockey Association wishes the junior tykes good luck as it continues its season.

In a recent survey, customers preferred the convenience of expanded local area calling service, at adjusted regular monthly rates, rather than

"per call" long distance charges.

Starting December 14, 1991, Two-Way local calling will be introduced between Madoc and Belleville.

Ministry willing to listen to village's request for first response team

by Jeff Wilson

A request to have its own fire department become a first response team by Madoc Village would be welcomed by the Ministry of Health, according to Graham Brand, a ministry official.

During a recent Madoc Village council meeting village Fire Chief Roger Snider made a request for support for a first response team and council passed a motion stating "whereas the Ministry of Health has instigated a First Response Team in the Village of Marmora to cover also the Village of Madoc, and the Village of Madoc has not been informed of these changes and are concerned about Village emergency coverage. Moved that the Village of Madoc ask the Ministry of Health to respond to the concerns about the way this plan was instigated and the actual coverage of this Village. The Village of Madoc supports the Fire Department in its attempts to re-establish itself as the institution responsible to rapid first response to people in need in Madoc Village."

In an interview, Brand said he sent a letter to the village stating the Ministry would be happy to discuss the village fire department becoming a first response team for the municipality. He also said he stated the village should contact the ministry's eastern regional office in Carleton Place. Brand said information about first response teams also was being sent to the village.

In 1989 a committee was formed to lobby for the institution of first response teams in the area, and Madoc was not represented, Brand said. In a report from the Prince Edward and Hastings committee requested first response teams for Wellington, Stoco, Maynooth, Coe Hill and Marmora.

Madoc Village Councillor Gord Crawford reported at a recent council meeting that three sites for the proposed helicopter pad have been found.

He told other council members one of the sites must be approved by the Ministry.

The village would have to provide the 30 square feet needed for the landing area and the 120 square feet for the landing pad area.

Granmarblé chairman sets deadline on investor's decision

by Jeff Wilson

The most recent investor to come forward and showing interest in the Hastings County plant proposal will have to make a decision by this Friday, according to Granmarblé and Granite Ltd. Chairman Tom Watson.

In an interview last Friday, Watson said he will give the investor who showed interest in a Hastings County plant until Dec. 20 to make a final decision on investing.

"We want to make up our minds this coming week because it's just dragging; you could drag it out for another six months, but at some point you have to call an end to it," he said. "I am going to try to phone this representative in Kingston, he's the representative of this interested developer and see if he is available."

The possible investor for the proposed Madoc Township plant came forward two weeks ago, saying he could cover the entire $10 million portion needed for the project, Watson said.

For the proposed site in Elliot Lake, Watson said two investors were to have submitted their packages Monday. The third investor for the project has pulled out, but an Italian bank, which will support either project will act as a replacement, Watson said.

The entire Hastings County plant project rests on this one investor, Watson said if doesn't receive a definite response by Friday, he will take that to mean a change in heart, and the $44 million plant will be built in Elliot Lake.

The breton stone plant will produce fire place mantels, floor tiles and bathroom countertops and will directly create 100 jobs and indirectly create 75 jobs in supporting industries.

Fire causes over $20,000 damage

by Jeff Wilson

A fire that broke out in the old school-house in Millbridge caused between $20,000 to $30,000 damage from water and smoke damage, said Madoc Township Fire Chief Grant Ketcheson.

The fire call came at approximately 1 p.m. last Thursday afternoon, after owner Roy Spense and his wife returned to the building to find it smoking.

Three trucks and 12 firefighters brought the fire under control in about an hour and half, Ketcheson said.

After arriving on the scene the firemen determined the fire had moved into the attic and two holes had to be punched into the roof to extinguish the fire, Ketcheson said.

The building was smoked-filled and eight bottles of air were used by firemen battling the fire.

The building, previously a school, was being used as storage by the owner Roy Spense.

tion during the October council meeting to build a helicopter pad at no cost to the village.

He told council that the village would be responsible for ice and snow removal, and repainting a large "H" in the middle of the pad, every four or five years. The costs for construction and hydro, as well as costs for access roads would be picked up by the province.

Berry told council the type of helicopter used would make as much noise as a lawnmower on landing and take-off.

Wildcats tighten league point race

by Nancy Powers

The Madoc Wildcats tightened the league point race with a win, loss and a tie in Jr. "C" action last week. They beat Trenton 7-2, lost to Napanee 5-3 and tied North Frontenac 4-4.

The Wildcats are undefeated against Trenton, outscoring them 16-5 in three meetings. Madoc netminder John Rogers, and linemates Bob Kelly and Tom Burnside combined their talents for the Wildcat win at home on Dec. 10.

Burnside (Bob Kelly-Dean Brownson) scored his first of three goals just one minute into the game and Hans Wising (Ron Hunt-Dan Roffey) capitalized on a power play opportunity at 17:05 to give Madoc an early 2-0 lead.

Trenton applied great pressure and their efforts resulted in a goal at 13:51. Rogers came up big during the next shift, including a break-away effort, as the Trenton goal shifted the momentum.

The home team applied their own pressure late in the period which resulted in Madoc's third goal at 4:21 by Kelly (Burnside-Andy Mesmer).

Two powerplay goals in the second period put Madoc up 5-1 with goals from Ron Hunt (Kelly-Matt Elson) at 13:29 and Tom Burnside (Derek Chapman-Kelly) at 3:41.

The Madoc line of Hans Wising, Tom Burnside and Dean Brownson combined their efforts to score the final two goals for Madoc at 9:17 (Burnside) and 4:44 (Brownson) of the third.

Trenton applied good pressure at the beginning of the third period and Rogers again came up big as his team had difficulty clearing their own zone. The other Trenton goal came at 7:52.

Representing the Wildcats at the 1991-92 season All-Star game being held at North Frontenac are Jim Golden, Tom Burnside, Kevin Ellis and Ron Hunt. Madoc manager Scott Chapman was also selected. Coaching the All-Star team will be Napanee Raiders coaching staff Andy McGarvey and Roger Garrison. Sharing the goalie duties will be Adam Herrington, of the Trenton Golden Hawks and Craig Potter, the Picton Pirates.

Please note: The following home games for the Madoc Wildcats will be played between publications of the Madoc Review: Dec. 27 vs Picton at 8 p.m.; Dec. 29 vs Trenton at 2:30 p.m.; Jan. 7 vs Picton at 8 p.m. Madoc will also travel to Trenton on Jan. 3 for a 8:30 p.m. start.

Officers in the detachment at the time followed the vehicle which drove east bound on Highway 7. The officers lost sight of the vehicle, but continued east. Police found the vehicle a short distance down the road at the intersection of Downey Rapids road and Highway 7. The driver had lost control of the vehicle and driven into a rock cut at this intersection.

The driver was arrested for impaired driving at the scene and taken to Madoc detachment for a breathalyzer test. The car, a 1992 Chevy Cavalier, was destroyed, according to the OPP.

Shawn Chapman, 19, of RR3 Madoc was charged with impaired driving, driving with over 80 mgs of alcohol per 100 ml of blood and operating a vehicle with open liquor.

The OPP is also investigating a break and enter which occurred in the Thanet Lake-Coe Hill area. Sometime between Dec. 5-7 thieves entered the residence at L31 C8 Coe Lake and removed a Inglis washing machine and dryer, Admiral refrigerator, Viking freezer, and other items.

Ketcheson said damages were pegged at between $20,000 and $30,000 because plastic covering the storage items melted in the fire.

Ketcheson said the cause of the fire was either by the wood stove or the pipe leading to the stove. He said damage could have been greater, but doors were kept shut and no additional oxygen was allowed to get into the building before the volunteer department arrived, Ketcheson said.

He said the fire burnt a hole in the floor and an interior wall was heavily damaged.

Kids At Christmas

A CHRISTMAS POEM

Sitting by the fire,
The kids are getting tired,
Because they're waiting for old Saint Nick.

When the kids fall asleep,
You won't hear a peep,
Because they're dreaming of toys for them to pick.

John will pick a red truck,
Jake will pick a ball,
Tim will pick a puppy,
And Jane will pick a doll.

At 6:00 they'll awake to see,
That it wasn't just a fantasy.
Old Saint Nick had brought them all,
Trucks, balls, puppies, and dolls.

THE MAGIC CHRISTMAS TREE

One day I was looking for a Christmas tree, a special magic Christmas tree. So I went to look for the magic Christmas tree in the woods when I saw the most beautiful Christmas tree I have ever seen. I forgot my axe to cut down the magic Christmas tree. So I ran back home to get the axe. I got the axe and ran back to the magic Christmas tree. Then I cut it down and brought it home. It was hard to bring it home but I managed to do it. I couldn't find the stand to stand it up. I finally found the stand and got the Christmas tree up.

It was the night before Christmas. I got dressed and as I went to get my shoes on I heard a little voice. It sounded like, "buy me decorations." I said, "Who is it?" The tree said, "I am the Magic Christmas Tree." I said, "okay. I will go and buy you some decorations." I went to the store to buy the decorations. I bought the decorations. I got home and put the decorations on the magic Christmas tree. When I was finished putting the decorations on the magic Christmas tree I went Christmas carolling outside. After I got to five or six houses I went home and went to bed. In the morning I woke up and went to the Christmas tree. There were lots of presents but they were all for the magic Christmas tree. I still love the magic Christmas tree and we lived happily ever after. The end.

THE BABY CHRISTMAS TREE

One day a girl named Missy was looking for a Christmas tree. She looked for three days but she could not find one. Everybody had a Christmas tree. The only one she could find was a baby tree. So that night she was thinking of where she could find one but there were no places she could find a tree. So she went to sleep.

The next morning she was thinking and just in one jump she was up. She got dressed, went to the kitchen, got a cup and filled it with water and went outside. She went over to the baby Christmas tree and gave it the water and every day it grew an inch. Every day she gave it water and on Christmas day she cut it down. She put it in the place that she wanted it then she decorated it and she never took it down. The end.

THE CHRISTMAS DREAM

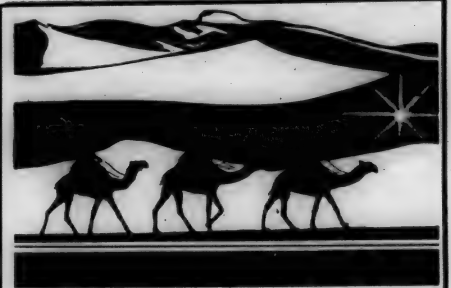

One night a little girl named Shannon was lying in bed. She was reading a short novel called 'The Best Christmas Ever'. Shannon had read that book about three times but Shannon didn't care. Finally she put the light out and went to bed.

In the morning Shannon got up and went down stairs and started writing her letter to Santa Claus. Dear Santa, I would like for Christmas a big huge teddy bear, a new red bike and a cute little puppy with black and white spots. Well I guess it's time to go now so I'll see you next year. Good bye Santa Claus.

Shannon went back up stairs and put her note under her pillow. Shannon went to sleep with the light on and she dreamed that Santa Claus came down the chimney. Shannon went down stairs and saw Santa Claus just leaving. "Wait" said Shannon "Oh darn it's too late." Shannon woke up took the note from underneath her pillow and put her clothes on and her special raincoat. Shannon walked outside and went to mail her letter.

When Shannon got home she had some milk and cookies. "I'll never forget that dream ever again" said Shannon with a big smile on her face.

A GOOD CHRISTMAS

One day a boy was going G.T'ing down a big hill. He was happy. Then he wiped out and the G.T. went in a lake.
Then the boy yelled for help.
But no one heard him. Then he said, "I will walk home." Then he went down the road. He was freezing. He made it to the road and fell. A guy with a transport came and picked him up. The man said, "What is your name?" "My name is Peter." The man said, "I had a son named Peter." The boy said, "What is your name?"
"My name is Peter too." The man said, "You are my son."
Then they went home and ate popcorn and they lived happily ever after.

A CHRISTMAS POEM

T'was the eve before
Christmas
There was spirit in the air.
Mother was cooking the Christmas goose
With curlers in her hair.

My sister was wrapping gifts
With a twinkle in her eyes.
My brother was raiding closets
Looking for a hidden Christmas surprise.

My father was decorating the tree

With coloured bobbles and lights.
And the candles on the mantle
Lit up the long winter nights.

I was waiting by the fire
For Santa to appear.
I was sure if I waited long enough
The time would soon be near.

My eyelids felt so heavy.
I couldn't stay awake.
So I drifted into dreamland Thinking of toys, candy and cake.

When I woke up in the morning
At quarter after three.
There were beautifully wrapped presents
All under the tree.

And my red and green stocking
To my utmost joy
Was filled to the brim
With candy and toys.

Let's make this a green Christmas

With the holiday season fast approaching, the Centre and South Hastings Waste Management Board wants us to have a green Christmas with a minimum of holiday garbage.

Consider giving environmentally appropriate gifts, things like baked goods, home-crafts, composters, donations to an environmental organization or offer your time for odd jobs or baby-sitting.

How your gift is wrapped can also make a statement of caring. Fabric bags or wrappings can be used year after year, or reuse colour comics or old magazines as gift wrap.

Residents of Centre and South Hastings can use the Blue Box 2000 program to recycle most materials. As a reminder, the following items can be put out with your boxboard - gift wrapping paper (except foil paper), cards, letters, envelopes, flyers, paper bags and rinsed egg nog, milk and juice cartons.

The holidays will be a busy time for the recycling truck drivers and sorters. You can help them by: keeping cans and glass loose in the blue box (do not bag), flatten boxes and stuff them in larger boxes along with household paper (keep household paper out of the newspaper bags); separate, flatten and tie corrugated cardboard. Remember, bubble plastic packaging can not be recycled.

The recycling trucks will have a different holiday schedule. The only area affected for our readership will be North Stirling where, instead of Boxing Day, pick-up will be on Dec. 24.

If you don't use an artificial or potted tree, check with your municipality to find out if they are chipping Christmas trees this year.

And here's an idea for a New Year's Resolution: by participating in Blue Box 2000 and by using a backyard composter, you can reduce your garbage by 80 per cent. And that should bring cheer to anyone's heart.

CHRISTMAS

Christmas is the time when families get together.

Hugs and kisses are given out on Christmas.

Rapping to Christmas music is what we do.

I put cookies and milk out for Santa Claus.

Santa Claus brings you lots of presents.

Toys, toys, toys, a lot of toys for all the girls and boys.

Moms and dads give you presents too.

A lot of stuff is in your stocking.

Santa Claus will soon be here.

THE BEST SANTA

Once upon a time there was a girl. Her name was Pip. Pip was not happy at all. She could not have Christmas. She was mumbly. Then her mom came in. "Dear, what are you doing?" "Nothing," she started to cry. "Tomorrow is Christmas. Pip's Mom did not know that tomorrow was Christmas. When Pip was asleep, the Elves heard about Pip not getting toys or anything like that.

The Elves told Santa. Santa got mad at Pip's mother. So Santa got in the house through the chimney and carried 300,000 toys and gave them to Pip. Pip woke up and went to watch T.V. But she saw all her toys. Then she shouted, "I have some toys!" They lived happily ever after. The End.

A CHRISTMAS STORY

Once upon a time there lived a family, a very poor family. They had many worries about money, jobs and especially Christmas. Christmas is coming up very soon. The Frump family was very poor. They did not have enough money to buy each other gifts for Christmas.

It was two days until Christmas. The Frump family was worried. They did not have enough money. They tried everything. They even tried lottery tickets, but that did not work.

Finally Christmas day came. The Frump family was sad. They did not have a Christmas tree either. The next day, which was Christmas day, all their friends were calling them and telling them what they had got.

It was two days after Christmas when the Frump family received a letter in the mail saying they have won a billion dollars. Well, when they heard that they had their Christmas all over again. And the Frump family lived happily ever after.

GARFIELD'S CHRISTMAS TREE

Once upon a time there was a fat cat named Garfield. He wanted a Christmas tree for his family but they already had one. So he went and got one anyway and wrapped the Christmas tree up with wrapping paper.

He hid it in the garage and went in to eat lasagna when John walked in and caught him red handed. "So what are you doing, Garfield?" Garfield said, "I am eating." "Eating what," said John. "The refrigerator?" "No," said Garfield. "So I'm going to put up the Christmas tree." "What Christmas tree?" said Garfield. "My Christmas tree," said John. "I got one too," said Garfield. So John decorated his Christmas tree in the livingroom. Garfield decorated his in his room. Then they had a contest to see who made the best Christmas tree and Garfield won. Then they wrote their note to Santa. Garfield wrote, Dear Santa, Could I please have a race car so that I could race in the kitchen to get something to eat? Your friend, Garfield. John wrote, Dear Santa, Could I please have a dog? Your friend, John. Then he left some cookies and milk and went to bed. In the morning when Garfield woke up he went to the living room and saw presents all over. He was happy and so was John. The end.

T'was The Night I Went For A Ride With Santa

On 'our dinner before Christmas night we had pork chops, bean sprouts, and hot chocolate. When we were done our dinner, I went strait to the marshmallows so I could roast them by the fire I had fire roasted marshmallows, then my Mom called me to get ready for bed. I was brushing my teeth when I heard bells outside in the snow! I rushed over to the window but when I got there, there was nothing to be seen except the snow falling heavily. I went to bed with a frown on my face because I thought Santa couldn't get through the snow. When I got to bed I heard the bells again. I rushed down stairs and to my surprise, there stood Santa right eye to eye with me! Then he asked me would you deliver gifts with me? I've gotten to fat to climb down chimneys and I'm also to old. Sop of course I helped the poor man!

T'was The Night Before Christmas

T'was the night before Christmas when all through the house not a creature was stirring not even a mouse. The stockings were hung the the chimney with care with hopes that St. Nick soon will be there. The children all snuggle in their bed, while presents and sugar plums danced in there heads. Me in my sleeping cap going to get a drink of water, I seen Santa Claus! It was the most amusing thing in the world. Then I went up to see the kids but when we came down he was gone. Then I woke up it wasn't even near to Christmas it was still summer I sure was mad. It was still summer!

What I Like About Christmas

I like Christmas because you can get presents. I go sled riding. I like Christmas, because I go skating and skiing too. My whole family celebrates Santa Claus packs toys for children. Christmas is an important time to meet your whole family.

What I Like About Christmas

There are a lot of things I like about Christmas I like it in the morning when I wake up my brother. Then we wake up Mom or Dad and ask if we can get our Christmas stockings. They always have candies and little toys in them. I like that! Then we play downstairs until Mom and Dad really wake up. When they do e open our presents. That's something I really like about Christmas! Then we have breakfast and then we go to grandma's house. I like it when grandpa and grandma give us presents. Then we have a big dinner that is very good. So we have a very but good day.

My Visit to Bethlehem

It started a long time ago, a few years before Jesus Christ, in the little village of Nazareth.

It was a dark and cold night and that's where I came in. Well, here I am, a donkey with long ears and a stubby tail named Esau. My mom doesn't really have a name. They call her Donkey or Mule. And you are about to hear my story of my visit to Bethlehem.

My mom works for a man. She has to pull things. I'm always being teased about my ears. I trip on them. I always have to get my ears held up by mom.

And one night I got real bad! We were in our stable when I tripped over my ears. "Ha! Ha! long ears, tripping on your ears again. We should cut them off!"

Of course, being young, I ran over into a corner and put my head under some hay, without tripping on my ears!

"Dumb mule, tripping over your ears," the man said.

Well, mom, always thinking of me, got mad and kicked the man. He wasn't very nice and he kicked us out. It had snowed so my mother dug a hole and put me in it and she slept over me.

That night my mama left me forever. I prayed she'd go to Heaven. I had to leave myself, for all I knew the man would kill me. I didn't know when or how but I knew he would, so I set out.

I was quite hungry and getting thin. There were plenty of little streams from the hills but they were so cold I almost froze. I don't know how far I got or where I was going but I had tripped over my ears more times than I could have counted. I couldn't make it any farther. I gave in and slept. I didn't know if I was going to wake up; to tell you the truth, I had lost about ten pounds. And I was extremely hungry!!

I did wake up, but in a stable. It didn't look like the last one so I stayed calm. I looked in my food bin and... Thank goodness! It was full. I ate everything!

"You're a feisty little thing and hungry!" said the man in the stable.

He hadn't seen my ears yet. I was scared that if he did, he would throw me out again. Then he went on his tippy toes and...

"HOLY HOPPING TOADS!! Look at those ears!!" I ducked into some sawdust.

"Oh well, I can live with them. I'm desperate," he said. At that, I felt a little better and got out of the sawdust.

"Come here..." He looked at my name tag. "Esau, come on little fella."

I came slowly over to him. "You're a cute little thing, all alone." I had never been touched without being hurt, so I was a little frightened. I jerked away fast!

"Oh well, you can trust me!" He walked away.

Years passed. I was a young strong donkey and old enough to be useful. I would have been chosen by people if it weren't for those ears, stupid things! It was dark and cold as usual, and I was for rent again, when a man said, "Excuse me, would you happen to have a donkey? I'm not rich but I must get to Bethlehem and my wife is pregnant."

The man came over and pointed to me. "How much is he?" he asked.

"He is quite cheap but he has long ears," said my owner. "He would trip over them."

"How much is he? We don't care about his ears, how much?"

"Two silver pieces."

"Here you go."

And they were off. The woman held onto my ears. You could tell when she had a contraction because my head would pull up when she would pulled my ears. My poor ears were getting longer every two to three hours.

"CONTRACTION!!" There was a great pull on my ears. Another inch was on them.

Now there wasn't long to go. We had been on the road almost non-stop for three and a half days. We could see some lights and stuff and we thought it was Bethlehem.

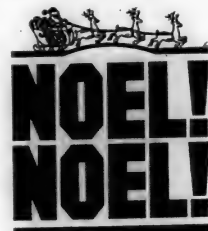

It was, so we headed for it. We were there but there no vacancies anywhere. We had to stay in a barn; we called it a stable. It was fine for me, but I don't know how the people liked it.

Then: "CONTRACTION!!" They were five minutes apart. Another five hours passed... and I woke up.

There lay a baby boy wrapped in a towel; a yellow ring was around the heads of both the lady and the baby. And it just occurred to me that there were the Virgin Mary and the Baby Jesus.

After that night, I was never ashamed of my long crummy ears, but very proud to say that I had helped the Virgin Mary give birth to our Saviour.

Christmas Day

On Christmas day I usually go outside and go tobogganing and skiing and do other fun stuff at my place. I go to my aunt's house to go skiing and tobogganing. We have a nice turkey dinner there. Sometimes I just stay home and open presents and play with them. I also go outside and make snow angels and do snowmen and I build snow forts. I have a snow fight. I throw snow at my dog and he brushes it back at me, when I go inside I have some hot chocolate. Then sometimes my family comes out and plays with me. Last year my sister, brother and I made a picture of Alf from snow. I can't wait until this year when the snow falls. I am going to make my little dog outside and he will have a hay day out in the snow. I can't wait until Christmas. It will be fun.

Christmas Day

On Christmas day I run downstairs and wait for my dad so we can open our presents. When we're done I run outside and skate. Then our friends come over and skate as well, then I get my sleds and we go down the hills. When we're done we go inside and have a hot chocolate and then we have dinner. Soon we go back outside and play hide-and-go-seek in the dark. Then my friends have to go home. I love Christmas.

What Christmas Means To Me

Christmas is not only gifts. It's the caring for you and your family and other people. Show that you care, thank God for your family, clothing, and everything else. What Christmas Means To Me

Christmas is sharing and caring. I like Christmas because we go to my grandma's and she makes a really good lunch and then we go home and pay with our stuff we get. We act like little kids. We phone our friends and we see what they got for Christmas. We all like Christmas because we get time off of school and we get presents.

A Christmas Poem

Christmas is a time for caring
A time for family, friends and sharing
There's lots of snow and snow fun
Sleds out swishing down the run
Toboggans all waxed and shone
Waiting for kids to come along Grandmas and Grandpas will be coming through Aunts and uncles, cousins too
Opening gifts and packages galore
There's paper and boxes all over the floor
But most important of all I'd have to say
Is to remember this is baby Jesus' birthday.

Wanda Holgate
Madoc Township Public School

A Good Poem About What Christmas Means To Me

My Christmas tree is what Christmas means to me. I love having brunch with my family! I celebrate with all my heart and for dessert I might have a tart. Why do we kiss under the mistletoe? We kiss under the mistletoes; the boys in their ties, the girls in their bows. A long time ago Jesus Christ was born. We celebrate his birth on Christmas morn. That's what Christmas means to me.

Kim McKenzie
Madoc Township Public School

Love and Care

What Christmas means to me is showing our love and care to one another but not just to our families and friends to. If you don't get along with somebody at school try to be nice or don't say anything at all. If they say something to you don't pay attention because we're trying to be nice. Well that's what I think Christmas means to me.

Wendy Carman
Madoc Township Public School

What Christmas Is

To me Christmas is remembering the birth of Jesus. Also how Mary and Joseph did all those things for him. It also means having a huge dinner with friends and family and getting a few gifts. It is not made up of fighting and smacking. How Jesus was born in a stable.

Christina Robinson
Madoc Township Public School

What Christmas Means To Me

What Christmas means to me is a lot because you get a lot of gifts and most of them are toys and clothes. Christmas, also, means a lot to me because I get to be around my whole family but I especially want to see my uncle Murray because he lives in Alberta and I haven't seen him for three years. That's what Christmas means to me.

Andrea Murphy
Madoc Township Public School

Why I Like Christmas

I like Christmas because I like getting together with my family. I like Christmas because of the reaction my family gets when they pen their presents. I like Christmas because that's when we have a turkey (my favourite).

I like Christmas because of the birthday of Jesus.

I like Christmas because we play in the snow with my cousins.

I like Christmas because Santa comes. I hope you have a Merry Christmas.

Melissa Foley
Madoc Township Public School

What Christmas Really Means

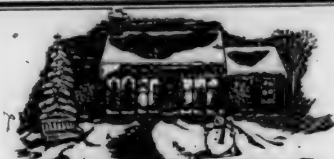

Christmas doesn't mean just getting presents and everybody should know that Christmas isn't fighting and it isn't snapping at people. Christmas is a time to be sharing and caring. We should be thankful that there is a time when we can sit down with our whole family and talk and have a great Christmas dinner. Christmas is a time for giving, not just taking and saying thanks a lot. I could have used a new pair of earrings too. What I am really really trying to say is that Christmas is really a deep down time of year when everybody should care. I hope that whoever has read this will remember the story forever.

What Christmas Means To Me

Christmas means excitement and fun. It's a time when you and your family get together for a dinner or to open your gifts. Or maybe something different. What it really means to me is caring, sharing, being nice to other people and to share your feelings with others. What I think About Christmas

We celebrate Christmas to remember Jesus. It is fun on Christmas opening presents but it is a lot more fun watching people open gifts that I gave them.

On Christmas I go to my grandparents house to eat supper. We have turkey and cranberries and a lot of other good stuff. It is fun because we sing carols and I play the piano. That is what I think about Christmas.

All I Want For Christmas

On Christmas I wanted a new bike but instead I got mikes and now I'm sad and lonely to. I will try. I just need a little time to get that bike right ut of my mind, to see the mikes through different eyes. Everytime I see them on I try to trash them but when my mom sees me she tells me off. Everytime she sees me, oh she sends me up to my room. Tell me why when I scream there's no reply. When I reach out there's nothing to ride. (To the tune of Fading Like A Flower by Roxette)

Two men out hunting for deer ended up saving one's life last week on the shores of Big Gull Lake.

On Dec. 11, the two archery hunters, Mike Jeffrey of Kingston and Gary Melrose of Scarborough, spotted a buck deer fallen and unable to move on the ice a few hundred yards from shore.

The deer had apparently wandered onto the recently-frozen lake, lost control of its footing and lay spread eagled on the ice.

The pair contacted the Ministry of Natural Resources in Tweed and with the assistance of a Conservation Officer rescued the deer from a certain painfully slow death.

The deer, which was unable to gain its footing due to the slippery smooth ice surface, was dragged carefully to the nearest shore by means of a rope looped behind its head.

Once on shore, after a few moments rest, the deer was able to stand and finally walked somewhat normally in the direction of a wintering area.

Conservation Office Ron Sprigings that the deer would have died had it not been for the concern and action of these two men.

Barbara's Notes

I have received many letters and information in the past few months and I'm a little behind. Please be patient and I'll catch up to you. Thank you.

One of our readers would like to know if anyone has the pattern for hats and knitted outfits for premature babies.

The pain is real

Dear Barbara Pealow

I'd like to tell you a brief story with a happy ending. It's about a little girl I know named McOustra and she'll be 12 years old in October.

If you could meet Tara you'd find her a happy, normal girl on the verge of becoming a young woman. You'd never suspect that she had spent two of her last three years in bed and in and out of hospitals.

When Tara was eight, she turned from a picture of health and happiness to one of despair and suffering. Virtually overnight, she became severely ill with abdominal pain, fever and bloody diarrhea.

For nine months, Tara's condition worsened and did not improve under her local doctor's care. Then one day, out of desperation, Mrs. McOustra took Tara to see her early childhood pediatrician. He fortunately recognized the symptoms and the next day Tara was admitted to hospital.

More Abled Than Disabled

by Barbara Bruce-Pealow

A story with a happy ending

After nearly a year of appropriate treatment and medication, Tara was suffering less but still suffering. There was no alternative - surgery was performed and Tara's lower bowel was removed.

That may not sound like a happy ending, but Tara is alive. And Tara is as happy and normal as anyone could be, considering that she now wears a plastic bag as a substitute for her bowel.

You see, the disease that Tara suffers from - Crohn's disease - has no known cause. And it has no known cure. With proper treatment, suffering can be reduced, and sometimes even controlled. But the disease is not yet curable.

Crohn's disease and ulcerative colitis are two forms of inflammatory bowel disease or

IBD. It is estimated that these diseases effect up to 200,000 Canadians.

You don't hear much about IBD. And often what you hear is not true. For example, doctors used to think that IBD was the result of tension or anxiety.

Now we know otherwise. Although we don't yet know specific causes there is no evidence that tension, stress or anxiety have any effect.

It is only through 17 years of research sponsored by the CFIC that we know this. Imagine suffering like Tara - and being told it's all in your head!

That's why the slogan of the Canadian Foundation for Ileitis and Colitis is made up of these telling words: "The Pain is Real". The CFIC is the largest funding body in the area of gastrointestinal disease in the country.

Since the CFIC was formed in 1974, over $11 million has been raised for medical research projects across the country and for the Intestinal Disease Research Units at Hamilton's McMaster University and the University of Calgary.

One wonders where Tara would be without this important research. And Tara's story is not unique. In fact, the incidence of IBD among young children and teens is growing at an alarming rate. And no one knows why.

The promise of a cure is getting closer, but it will take hard work, commitment, and most importantly, money. And that's why we're counting on you. Without your contribution, we won't be able to press on with this vital research.

It's important for you to know Tara's story. To help her and thousands like her, we need your financial help.

Will you help us? Your contribution of $35 or $50 - even $100 or more if you can - will make all the difference.

On behalf of the thousands of IBD sufferers across Canada, I thank you.

Sincerely,

Bernice Swan,
National President, CFIC

P.S. You should know that even after Tara's operation, IBD can still attack whatever intestine she has left. Please be generous and help end the pain.

From Jean on the farm:

"This is good if you have any leftover chicken or turkey," says Jean"

Turkey or Chicken Tetrazzini

- 3 oz. elbow macaroni
- 1 3-ounce can mushrooms
- 2 cups cooked turkey or chicken (cut in strips)
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1-2/3 cups milk (about)
- 1 tsp. salt
- 3 shakes of pepper
- pinch of nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon Kitchen Bouquet
- 1 chicken bouillon cube
- 1/4 cup parmesan cheese

Cook macaroni until just tender in salted water. Drain well; arrange in bottom of greased 1-quart casserole dish. Drain mushrooms, reserving liquid. Place turkey or chicken and mushrooms over macaroni. Melt butter or margarine in saucepan on low heat; stir in flour. Add milk to mushroom liquid to make two cups. Stir in flour mixture; cook on medium heat, stirring until thickened. Stir in seasoning, Kitchen Bouquet, and bouillon cube. Pour sauce over turkey or chicken. Sprinkle with parmesan cheese and sprinkle with paprika. Bake in 350 F. oven 20 minutes. Serve with hot rolls, tossed salad and top it off with jello and ice cream. Serves four.

Almond Cookies

- 1 cup rice flour
- 1/2 cup light brown sugar (packed)
- 2 cups finely ground blanched almonds
- 6 tablespoons soft butter
- 1 tablespoon ice water
- 30 almonds

Sift the rice flour and brown sugar into a bowl. Mix in the ground almonds, then work butter with the hands. Stir in the ice water. Break off tablespoon-size pieces of dough and shape into balls. Arrange on a greased cookie sheet, leaving at least 1 inch between each. Flatten slightly and place an almond in the center of each. Bake 8-10 minutes, or until delicately browned. Makes about 30 cookies.

Chow, see you next week.

To the Editor:

I must correct some misinformation in Mary Gonder's statement on behalf of the PC Association, published in the November 20th Midweek section.

Mary claimed that a PC opposition day motion in the legislature on October 1st "shamed the NDP government into adding another $15.5 million to the minimal help they planned to give farmers," quoting former MPP Jim Pollock.

Here are the facts. First, as Jim knows, the government's $35.5 million aid package for farmers had to have cabinet approval. Cabinet approval was given at its regular Wednesday meeting on September 25th, six days before the PC's opposition day motion.

Second, the October 1st debate didn't increase the amount by $15.5 million. The full $35.5 million was approved on September 25th.

Third, the government has already committed a total of $125.5 million in new money for agriculture in the 1991-92 budget year, compared to the 1990-91 budget year. Agriculture is a major priority with the Bob Rae government.

Fourth, government MPPs voted against the PC motion because those members knew our emergency aid package was forthcoming.

Thank you for letting me set the record straight.

Yours truly,
Elmer Buchanan

Knights show fine form dumping St. Peter's 8-5

Peterborough - What a difference five days can make!

Stinging from a recent 10-5 pounding at the hands of the Saints, Norwood pushed all the right buttons Tuesday on their way to a fine, confidence-boosting 8-5 over that same St. Peter's squad.

With captain Dan Rutherford in high gear, and solid defensive efforts from all of the Knights, Norwood showed how well it can play and (perhaps) put to rest all those memories of one-goal losses.

Take away those one-goal matches, and a dismal early-season tie, and Norwood would be near the very top of the Kawartha East standings.

Along with Rutherford, the Knights got goals from Andrew Hamilton, Jason Jones, Rick Murray, Allister Woodburn and Jeff VanAllen.

The Saints picked up goals from Ryan Craybeek, Darren Williams, Peter Moher, Ryan Quinn and Chris Fitzgerald.

The Knights close out the 1991 portion of the schedule Thursday (Dec. 20) when they host the Haliburton Redmen.

the top squad in the Western Division. The season resumes Jan. 3 when they travel to the Kinsmen Centre for a 3:30 pm match with TASS.

Once again the Knights will take part in the mammoth SnoFest tourney in Peterborough Jan. 10-11. The highlight for the Knights should be their match against undefeated Burlington Nelson - the number one high school hockey team in Ontario - during opening round action Jan. 10.

Norwood opens the tourney at 8:10 am with a game against Cederbrae Collegiate from Scarborough followed by a 12:30 match with Cameron The Nelson match goes at 4:30 pm

the accident and was located at the owner's residence.

Linda Zschuppe of RR 4, Campbellford was northbound on County Rd 50 on December 14th and entered a left curve. It was snowing at the time and the roads were slippery. The driver was unable to negotiate the corner and went straight through. The vehicle entered the west ditch and struck a hydro pole. There were no injuries. The 1979 Honda Civic received severe damage to the left side.

On December 14th, Stephen Meier of RR 2, Campbellford was westbound on the cottage road in the Philmar subdivision in Seymour Twp. when he observed a 1973 Chev Impala owned by James Rowley of RR 4, Marmora, which had slid off the road and been left. Meier attempted to stop but was unable to do so. Meier's 1988 Dodge pick-up struck the Chev on the front end. There were no injuries. The Meier vehicle received moderate damage while the Rowley vehicle was lightly damaged.

Marie Colliss of Oshawa was northbound on County Rd. 46, 14.5 km north of Havelock when she lost control. The 1980 Chev Malibu entered the east ditch and struck a hydro pole. There were no injuries. The vehicle was demolished.

Until recently, Sudbury was just that place in the near north where the mines are. As little as five years ago I remember southern snowmobilers commenting that "there must be good snow around Sudbury", but no one had ever been there or even seemed to know if there were any trails. Then Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs' (OFSC) Director Don Lumley organized The Sudbury Trail Plan Association (STP) and suddenly snowmobiling became a $20 million a year local economic boom.

Not that Sudbury hasn't always had active snowmobilers. Any area that supports "the world's largest snowmobile dealer" - The Shop (Polaris), and Sudbury Cycle & Marine's 21,000 sq. ft. superstore (Yamaha), has to have had a lot of machines. As a matter of fact, near the end of last season, when Yamaha's

Destination Review:
The Sudbury Trail Plan

"The weekly newspaper column for snowmobilers"

new V-Max 4 had just been introduced, I skeptically asked the staff at Sudbury Cycle & Marie whether there was any action yet on this limited quantity, approximately $12,000 (out the door) muscle sled. Waving a thick raft of pink order slips in my face, he stated: "Thirty seven $500 deposits in one week and counting." Who says there's no one snowmobiling in Sudbury? What recession?

There were a handful of local clubs around the region, but it was not until they united four years ago to form STP, (1-800-465-6655) pooling resources, expertise, and trails, that they had a hot product to market. Now there are over 1,400 kms of trails around Sudbury, inter-connected and easily accessible from the STP Ring Trail that circumscribes the town. It's an ideal locale for a snowmobiling vacation and for other clubs to witness what snowmobiling could become in their own local area.

The STP system is an exciting and interesting mix of wilderness logging roads, rural trails and urban routes. Most are groomed wide with good forward visibility for safe cruising. The trails furthest from town are generally better since they bear less traffic, but even near-town trails were as good as they could be under heavy use. The groomers had even smoothed out the ground in several spots rendered snowless by a recent rally.

One feature of the STP system that amazed us is the size of some of the area lakes. Wanapitei and Chiniguchi seem to go on for ever and due to the terrain restrictions, many STP trails do cross these and other lakes. All lake crossings were marked with "tree lines" of cut evergreen boughs and I felt very safe riding past hundreds of ice fishing huts with 4x4's parked outside. The only negative comments were that the direction signs and trail numbers were poor where trails intersected on the lakes.

Visitors could easily become disoriented in white-outs or during night riding.

Another concern was the availability of gas. Many local riders carry extra cans with them which is indicative that there can be problems. Our experience was that if those unfamiliar with the trails were unlucky enough to combine certain trails together, they could conceivably run short. Several of the gas stops marked on the map are only open on weekends and so cannot be counted on mid-week. On the other hand, several resorts that are not marked gas stops do have gas for their customers and will help out in an emergency. The solution is to fill up every time gas is available and before you depart, ask about where gas can be found. At worst, you can always buy gas from a local snowmobiler's extra can - or better yet carry one yourself!

And we did meet many friendly people on the trails. At no time during our weekday rides did we ever feel abandoned in the wilderness. There were enough other riders out - families, husbands & wives, groomers - who were always prepared to stop and chat, to offer advice and directions, and to lend a hand if needed.

The STP is an ambitious, well-conceived and generally well-executed trail system with excellent support and service facilities and access, making it a model for other regions to follow. As with any big project, it takes time, money and incredible effort to maintain and develop, but the $20 million a year payoff to the local economy cannot be ignored. The problems, which STP membes continue to address again this year, have to do with completing the conversion from the individual clubs' old trails and markings to a complete, uniform, consistent, STP system. But these

There was one little angel that had just arrived the day before (she was in a horrible car accident." When Jesus spoke, she got frightened and didn't know where to meet Him so she just stayed where she was. Meanwhile, Jesus was taking attendance and when He called out, Michelle Levere, no one answered.

When Jenny Coens spoke up and said, "She's scared of you; she says she's not good enough for you and she doesn't know the way here either. Sir."

"Well, you're her good friend. I would like you to take notes during this meeting and give them to her. When the meeting is over, I would like you to bring her to Me. Tell her not to be frightened," Jesus replied.

So Jenny took notes about Jesus' birthday and after the meeting, she went looking for Michelle.

Meanwhile, Michelle was packing her bags. She knew that any minute Jenny was going to come in and say, "Jesus wants you," and then she knew she would get in trouble for not attending the meeting and she would probably have to leave so she was leaving now.

On her way out, she gave a letter to Angel Theresa and said, "Give this to Jenny Coens."

"Wait a minute," said Angel Tabitha. "Where are you going? Do you have a pass?"

"Why no, I don't have a pass, why do we need a pass?" she asked.

"Because a lot of Angels try to leave because they're scared. The miss the first meeting and leave because they think Jesus will tell them to leave but Jesus never sends anyone away. Now take that letter and go back. I bet he's looking for you right now. Why here comes Angel Jenny now," answer Angel Tabitha.

"Okay, I'm sorry, I shouldn't have been so foolish, thanks for everything," and off she went.

"Okay, thanks Jesus, I'll do very well, thank you," said Michelle. She had just been talking with Jesus and He said it was okay about the meeting and all, most importantly He told her that she was in charge of the decorations.

He said she could put decorations anywhere and everywhere. He also said she could use any kind of decoration that was suitable.

The big day arrived, it was Dec. 25.

"Start the celebration!" Jesus called out. "It is My birthday and My guest of honour is our newest angel, Angel Michelle! She was in an accident and was very fortunate to come here. She was also the angel that did the decorating. Didn't she do a wonderful job?"

"Why, thank you," Michelle replied. "I'm very happy to be here!"

And after that great celebration, Heaven went back to normal for a while.

The Pet Store

The little girl and her mom had to go shopping for Christmas so they went to the biggest mall ever. The little girl Suzy wanted to go to the pet store because she loved pets.

Her mother said, "You can go to the pet store after I buy some Christmas presents."

After they were finished at the mall, they went to the pet store. When Suzy first walked in the door, she said, "Whoopee!" She saw the present that she wanted for a long time. It was a little kitty. Her mom said, "Maybe for Christmas."

Christmas was in three days. Suzy was a very spoiled girl and their family was very rich. They only lived in a small village

The next day Suzy went upstairs and dumped out all of the money in her piggy bank. She only had two dollars. She wanted that kitty so badly. Her mother was doing the laundry so she couldn't hear Suzy open her window to sneak out.

She jumped out of the window and went to the pet store. When she arrived there, the first thing she played with

What I Like About Christmas

We get to visit our family. I'll just talk about my grandpa's house at Christmas. My grandpa's name is Roy Bonisteel. Well as long as I can remember every year we always have fun. All of our cousins are always there. I am always happy about that. This will be my first Christmas that we get to go to our grandpa's apartment stuck onto our grandpa's house! You see my great grandma moved into my grandpa's house. They did not have room for her in their house. So they made an apartment. When it is Christmas Day we go out for a slide down our big hill. It will be fun to see my family.

Kids At Christmas

What I Like About Christmas

I like to get gifts. I like how you get to go to your grandmother's house where you get more gifts. But I like most all when you get Christmas cake. I like when our family gets together. That's what I like about Christmas.

Christmas

What Christmas is to me is when you share love with your family. When you have a good dinner with the family. Getting gifts and giving them to my teacher Miss Sharpe. You have to get her a gift. It is nice to get everybody a nice thing for your mom, dad, sisters, brothers, aunts, uncles, grandmothers, grandfathers and other people too. God, you celebrate his birthdays to and that is nice too. That's what Christmas means to me.

What Winter Solstice Means To Me

It means the longest night of the year and I get to give and receive from and to my family and friends and I also get to receive gifts. I also get to stay up late. We don't cut down a tree to decorate because that would be killing trees so we could watch it all prettied up. So if we want to decorate a tree we make one.

CHRISTMAS NIGHT

As the sun went down the North Star shone.
O're hill & valley till the break of dawn
Baby Jesus was in the manger.
Safe & warm & free from danger.
Wisemen bearing gifts stood around his bed of straw.
Looking at the precious babe, cream white & without a flaw.

Dear Santa Claus:

There are not a lot of things that I want, but there's one thing that I really want for Christmas and that is roller blades. That is really all the presents that I want.

was the bird. When she opened the cage, the bird bit her finger. Suzy hit the bird and said, "Bad birdy, bad birdy."

She went over where the kitty was but the kitty wasn't there. Suzy had thought to herself maybe her mom had bought it for her for Christmas.

Suzy didn't want to leave the animals so she stayed overnight at the store. She had to leave early because the store manager comes at 7:30 so she left at six.

Suzy went home and she tried to climb up to the window but she couldn't. So she went in the back room door. When she was in the house, she had to be very quiet because everyone was sleeping.

She went up to her bedroom and got her p.j.'s on and went to bed because the next morning was Christmas. Their family would always wake up at nine because Santa wouldn't come until seven.

Suzy was dreaming about candy, presents and chocolates. The bells in the little village rang about nine and their family went downstairs, but of course Suzy was the first one down. Suzy opened the first present and it was a doll. She opened all of her presents but there was no kitty.

Suzy's mom said, "There is a very special present that you wanted," and Suzy's mom gave the present to Suzy. She opened it up and there was the kitty purring loudly. She began to play with it and she named it Nicole. Nicole spent many happy Christmases with Suzy.

CAROLLERS ON PARADE—These carollers, representing Forever Flowers and Gifts at the Warkworth Santa Claus Parade this year, proved to be one of the numerous big hits. Held Saturday, Dec. 7th, the parade was the first to be presented by Warkworth merchants in the village in 10 years. And organizers deserve credit for an outstanding job. It was thoroughly enjoyed by the big crowds that lined the streets and actually created a traffic jam afterwards. photo/Rolly Ethier

Holiday crafts bring families together

Holiday time is family time! 'Tis the season for smiles, laughter and fun, festive family activities.

This year, gather everyone for a new holiday project. Build mini gingerbread houses! With "mini" foods the current rage (like extra small crackers, cookies and cakes), these tiny gingerbread houses are sure to win raves - from kids and adults alike.

The cute houses make great tabletop decorations, gifts and party favors. For a holiday dinner, an individualized mini gingerbread house is a special touch at each place setting. Or, for a darling gingerbread village, display a cluster of mini houses on the mantel or under the tree.

Cookie cutters form gingerbread pieces just the right size for the roof and walls. Even the pre-school set can cut the gingerbread.

A different job might be assigned to each family member. For example, Mom can lead the baking while Dad heads "construction." And everyone will want to take part in the decorating.

are minor irritants for travelling snowmobilers who want miles of good trails, beautiful scenery, escape from the crowds, and a variety of snowmobile experiences.

There is no doubt that snowmobiling is alive and well in Sudbury. Just ask some of their local sledders who, with easy access to virtually unlimited trails and great snow conditions, regularly put on 5000 miles each season. Or ask the regional tourist board who have seen STP put Sudbury on the winter map as a must-visit snowmobiling destination.

If you're dreaming of a white turkey Christmas...

For centuries, tradition has dictated that turkey be eaten at Christmas, a legacy left by the first English settlers in North America.

In Canada, the tradition of turkey as the centerpiece of the meal goes as far back as the 19th century, when preparing Christmas dinner was a long, drawn-out affair.

Turkey as a holiday fixture goes hand in hand with visions of sugarplums, bells on reindeer and the more down-to-earth essentials of the season—piney fresh wreaths, flickering red candles, rich creamy eggnog, twinkling lights, mistletoe, ribboned presents and copious amounts of glorious food.

But organizing and executing Christmas dinner—the crescendo of the holidays—no longer needs to be a complicated affair. Now you can have the white turkey Christmas you've always dreamed about without all the fuss of preparing a whole bird or stuffing, thanks to two new stuffed boneless breast roasts now on the market. Created especially for the holiday season, both a whole and half breast roast filled with a special herb stuffing are available.

Perfect for white meat lovers, these roasts add a touch of elegance to Christmas dinner without straying too far from holiday tradition. Both roasts are packaged with nutritional information as well as cooking instructions, and a pop-up timer, which rises to let you know when the roast is cooked to perfection.

For six to eight people, just pop a convenient whole boneless roast (1.5 to 1.8 kilograms/3.3 to 4 pounds) into the oven and prepare a few simple accompaniments such as cranberry salsa, gravy, sweet potato timbales and Brussels sprouts.

The whole roast will be ready in about one to one and a half hours, so the kitchen will barely have time to heat up.

For entertaining a group of three to four, opt for the stuffed half roast (.7 to .8 kilograms/1.5 to 1.8 pounds) which takes only one hour to cook.

CRANBERRY PEPPER

SALSA

2 cups cranberries (fresh or frozen)

1/2 cup granulated sugar

2 tbsp white wine vinegar

1 small clove garlic, minced

Pinch salt

Pinch white pepper

Pinch hot pepper flakes

1/4 cup finely diced sweet green pepper

1/4 cup finely diced yellow pepper

Chop cranberries (do not thaw if frozen) finely in food processor or by hand. Combine with sugar and vinegar, stirring until sugar dissolves. Stir in garlic, salt, pepper and hot pepper flakes. Fold in diced pepper. Cover and refrigerate for at least 1 hour (and up to 1 day) for flavors to develop. Taste and adjust seasoning. Makes 2 cups.

SWEET POTATO

2 lb sweet potatoes

1 tbsp butter

3 eggs

1/2 cup dried marjoram
Salt and pepper
3 tbsp red currant jelly
Sprigs of marjoram (if available)

Scrub potatoes and roast whole in 400F oven for 40 to 50 minutes or until tender. Alternatively, boil whole in salted water for about 35 minutes. Peel, slice and puree in food processor. In saucepan, melt butter, add puree and cook over low heat, about 3 minutes. Whisk eggs in milk in big bowl. Gradually whisk in puree. Stir in marjoram and salt and pepper to taste. (Recipe can be prepared ahead to this point, covered and refrigerated up to one day. Bring to room temperature before proceeding.)

Divide 3/4 of the mixture among six greased custard cups. Make well in each and spoon in some of the jelly. Cover with remaining puree, smoothing top. Set in shallow pan in oven. Add enough boiling water to pain to come halfway up sides of cups. Bake for 20 minutes at 325F and 20 minutes at 400F or until cake tester inserted at side comes out dry.

Remove moulds and let cool three minutes. Carefully run thin-bladed knife around edge of each, set a plate over top and invert. Tap gently, then lift off mould. Garnish each with sprig of marjoram if using.

Makes six servings

Remove turkey breast to board, cover with tent of foil and let rest for 10 minutes before carving.

Remove any excess fat from pan drippings. Pour in stock and bring to boil, stirring up brown bits from pan. Dissolve cornstarch in cold water and add, stirring constantly. Simmer for about five minutes or until smooth and thick. Stir in parsley, oregano, savory and salt and pepper to taste. Serve in warm gravy boat. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

CLASSIC HERB GRAVY

Ski report conditions are now available

TORONTO—The Ontario Ministry of Tourism and Recreation, in co-operation with the Ontario Ski Resorts Association, is once again providing daily information on ski conditions throughout the province.

The alpine and cross-country ski reports are available 24 hours a day and provide accurate, detailed information on snow surface conditions, lifts, slopes and operating trails, as well as a brief outline of the day's weather.

"More than three million Ontario residents enjoy alpine and cross-country skiing, making the sport among the most popular winter activities," says Ontario Minister of Tourism and Recreation Peter North. "Enthusiasts can plan their ski outings by using the ski report to get up-to-date information on almost 100 ski facilities in Ontario."

The alpine condition information line is (416) 963-2992. The cross-country information line is (416) 963-2911. The taped report was available to the public starting Nov. 29th at 7 a.m. and continues daily through to the first weekend in April, 1992. The report is updated three times a day at 7 a.m., 11:15 a.m. and 2:15 p.m.

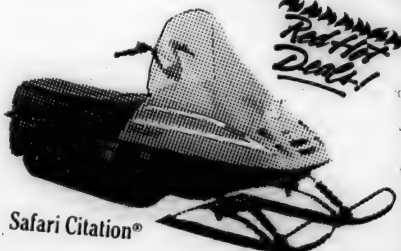

Skiers can also receive more detailed information by calling Ministry of Tourism and Recreation travel counsellors at (416) 965-4008 in Toronto or by calling 1-800-ONTARIO toll-free between the hours of 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. Monday to Friday. The same service is available in French by calling 1-800-268-3736. Information on ski conditions and all provincial travel information can also be obtained at any one of Ontario's travel information centres.

Dan White is new ORCA general manager, sec.-treasurer

Peterborough - The Otonabee Region Conservation Authority has a new general manager and secretary-treasurer.

Dan White, currently serving the same office with the Nottawasaga Valley Conservation Authority in Angus, will take over from Hal Hooke who retires Feb. 28.

The new appointment was announced by ORCA chairman, Ron Scott, at the Authority's annual general meeting Thursday night.

"ORCA is in a unique position entering into 1992 with a commitment to conservation vision for the watershed ecosystem," a press release by Mr. White says.

"The Authority has a strong resource program addressing conservation and environmental issues in the community," Mr. White says. "I am looking forward to working with the Authority in achieving its goals and objectives."

Mr. White's background includes stints with Trent Rideau Properties Inc., the Lakehead Region Conservation Authority, the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources and the Lake Simcoe Region Conservation Authority.

The new general manager joins the ORCA staff Feb. 3.

Hamilton nails hat trick in Br. 300 juvie win

Warsaw - Andrew Hamilton struck three times while Jason Jones set up four goals to lead the Legion Branch 300 juveniles to a 5-2 in Warsaw.

Chipping in with singles were Jason Fraser and Mike Kerber.

Jason Calder was instrumental in three of Norwood's goals.

The juveniles have suspended Hastings and District play because of an inability to dress a full slate of skaters. We hope it is just a temporary setback and that potential players come forward to help the always entertaining team out.

Lakefield trims Norwood in pee wee exhibition

Norwood - After jumping out to a 1-0 lead, Norwood's Lynch's Auto Service pee wees watched Lakefield score four straight goals enroute to a 7-3 exhibition win.

Scoring for Norwood were Mark Murray, Scott Christie and Shane Maddison. Earning assists were Jamie Heffernan, Derek Kryliuk and Murray. Leading the way for Lakefield was Shawn Micks who picked up a hat trick. B.J. Thompson added two while Jake Marshall and Nick Sharbutt had singles. Norwood's next home game is Friday night at 8 pm against Warkworth.

Take precautions to prevent thefts

If you are going away during the holidays, make sure a relative or neighbor checks your residence daily. Make use of timers to activate lights and radios in your home. Have somebody clean your driveway and walk as well as the mail and papers away from your house. Most thieves will not enter a house if they think it is occupied.

Elliot Lake selected for Granmarble plant; township possibility for second site

by Jeff Wilson

The site decision has been made, Elliot Lake will be the site of the $44 million Granmarble and Granite Inc. plant. But Madoc Township along with the rest of Hastings County has not been counted out for a second plant in the future, according to Granmarble Chairman Tom Watson.

In an interview last Friday, Watson said the funding for a plant in Elliot Lake is in place, and preparation for construction of the plant will begin in the new year.

The investor who recently came forward and said he could entirely fund the $10 million portion of the plant construction, failed to respond by Friday's deadline.

Watson said that he will continue to seek funding for a plant in Hastings County including Madoc Township.

"We will continue attempting to raise money for Hastings County, and we'll put a second plant up there," he said. "Once people see what a good investment it is and what a good facility it is, the industry itself is wonderful. It is one industry that is not being affected by the recession, because when construction is down, renovation is up, and our product is used a lot in renovation."

In a feasibility study conducted by Granmarble the figures revealed that Canada could support five plants of comparable size to the one being built in Elliot Lake.

New traffic lights in operation

Madoc Village received an early Christmas present, traffic lights.

The lights erected at the intersection of Highway 7 and 62 went into operation on Monday Dec. 16. The new set of traffic lights are the first to be installed in the village.

The Ministry of Transport decided to install the lights after a number of accidents were reported at the intersection.

The reported accidents at the intersection occurred on the Thanksgiving weekend.

The Ministry of Transport warns motorists to beware of the lights drive accordingly.

Council to cut out street light checks

Madoc Village council voted to cut out street light checks for bulbs not working.

Currently the lights in the village are checked once a week at a cost of $150.

The municipality also is in the process of converting all its street lights to energy efficient bulbs which will be completed in 1994. The new street lights do not come on during the daylight testings.

Council voted to stop the checks and rely on the local taxpayers to inform the municipal office when a street out in their area.

Councillor Mary P. suggested council put a in with the tax bills. ratepayers to inform municipality about street lights. But the do not go until much late Jan. 1, so council agreed alternative of informing ratepayers through advertisements in the newspaper cable television.

The province has asked that the Moira River Conservation Authority (MRCA) obtain a structural soundness for a building at the O'Hara Mill before it can qualify for a grant.

Murphy said the province asked for the structural soundness report to make sure that before money was given to repair the saw the building it is housed in won't fall down.

Murphy said it will cost about $21,000 to repair the saw and the grant would provide one-third of the price tag.

The structural soundness of the building will be conducted early in the new year, Murphy said.

CHSS class and teacher nominated for award

Madoc Village Council voted to nominate the Centre Hastings Grade 11 Environmental Science class taught by Bill Mitchell for the Moira River Conservation Authority's (MRCA) award of merit.

Council also nominated village resident Warren Hill for the same award.

The MRCA introduced the award of merit, along with the award of distinction this year.

Don Smith of Madoc, and the Kiwanis Club of Madoc received the award of merit for their work on the shore of Moira Lake, with the construction of the picnic shelter and boat launch.

Nominees for the award of merit must complete a short term or single event environmental project or activity in the Moira River watershed, while nominees for the award of distinction must display a long term and outstanding commitment to the conservation of natural resources in the Moira River watershed.

Former CHSS student sends greetings from Sing Buri, Thailand

Ian Ketcheson, a former student of Centre Hastings Secondary School, and Madoc Township resident is currently taking part in exchange program through the Canadian World Youth Program. He along with six other Canadians and seven Thailand youths travel and worked on agricultural projects in Western Ontario for three months, and currently is living in Sing Buri, Thailand. Ian will return to Canada Feb. 4, 1992.

Ian has written letters home, and his family has given permission for this letter to published.

Friends and Neighbors:

Greetings to everyone from Sing Buri, Thailand! Although we are in the tropics, the temperature is not overly hot. Today when I had my shower, (with a cup of course) it was freezing.

My family here is really nice. I'm not quite sure of their names, but nobody really is. Like all houses of host families, this is a middle-class house and is immaculately clean. You would never see a speck of dirt and could eat off the floor - (as a matter of fact we do). There is no furniture in the house for sitting and all meals and sleeping are done on the floor. I do have a small mattress-like thing. I also have a blanket as it gets chilly at night. Buarin (my partner in the exchange), and I have our own room and mosquito net so we have some privacy. There is no reason to worry about our safety. The entire village is watching us all the time and they are very over-protective. It gets nauseating at times. We are the first "farangs" or foreigners they've ever seen!

My family has beef cows, about fifteen of them and the farmer works with irrigation. It appears that the first half of our stay here will consist of being shown the sights. The people here love to give and it's sometimes hard always having gracious hosts. While this part of the exchange lacks the physical challenges of our time on the Ontario farms, the cultural differences make up for it. It's weird having no furniture, always eating rice, sleeping on floors etc. Nevertheless, I'm having no problem. I'm actually really liking the rice. Our Mae is a good cook and her fried chicken is incredible.

Recently on a Sunday we went to see some nearby temples and a troop of wild monkeys that live near here. It was about like going to the deer yard at home! The whole family went; as the Thais say "same same, but different".

I suppose you have snow and cold weather there. Every day is like a sunny day in June, so I hope you are a little jealous.

I'd like to again thank the Kiwanis, Legion, Lions, CHSS staff, and the Harts-Riggs Institute. Holiday wishes to everyone at home.

Madoc Women's Institute holds regular meeting

The Madoc Women's Institute met on Friday, Dec. 13 at the home of Vera Hill at 12 noon.

All enjoyed a bountiful pot luck dinner. We were pleased to have a former member Mrs. Hazel Beatty of Belleville join with us.

Our President Mrs. Luella Phillips opened our meeting by welcoming all and read a poem "Love".

The Institute Ode was sung and the Mary Stewart Collect repeated.

Ten members and two visitors answered the roll call with a verse from a Christmas card. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by secretary Wilma Patrick. Communications were received. Christmas cards to be sent to sick and shut-ins. Consumer Report on "Milk" given by Lottie Bailey. Each member contributed a Christmas number to the program Carol Singing led by Lillian Raw, and a gift change followed. The singing of "The Queen" concluded a very pleasant afternoon.

Area residents attend workshop on preventing toxic pollution

About 30 people interested in improving the local environment attended a citizens' action workshop in Belleville on Dec. 10 on "Toxics Use Reduction & Zero Discharge In Your Community."

The workshop, sponsored by Great Lakes United (GLU), the Quinte Environmental Resources Alliance (QERA), and the Canadian Institute for Environmental Law and Policy, featured information and discussion on the kinds of things that can be done by local governments, Ontario, and the Federal government, to prevent toxic pollution.

A key topic addressed during the workshop was a Community-Right-To-Know program for Canada.

John Jackson, President of Great Lakes United and one of the workshop speakers, said "one of the most important goals for the environmental movement in the Great Lakes Basin during the coming year is the adoption of a Community Right-To-Know program that will give Canadian citizens access to information on the toxic chemicals made, used and released into our environment."

Jackson added, "We cannot measure the progress being achieved by toxics use reduction efforts unless we have access to this kind of toxics information."

A large portion of the workshop was devoted to pollution prevention at the local level. Speakers talked about some of the programs citizens can ask their local governments to adopt.

Karen Murphy, Great Lakes Field Co-ordinator and Chair of the Pesticide Advisory Board for Buffalo, New York, described the Board's efforts to get the city to use safe alternatives to toxic pesticides.

Jeanine Ralph, of QERA, talked about Zero Discharge Resolutions that can be adopted by local governments.

The final topic covered was "Toxic Pollution Prevention & The Bay of Quinte Remedial Action Plan (RAP)".

Jan Samis, a member of the stakeholder committee working to develop the RAP talked about some of the pollution prevention elements being incorporated into the Plan.

Tony Luppino, the Pollution Prevention Co-ordinator for Great Lakes United, detailed some generic ways to incorporate toxics use reduction and pollution prevention into RAPs while they are being developed, and during their implementation.

The Dec. 10 workshop was the last of six held by Great Lakes United, in co-operation with local organizations in various parts of the Great Lakes Basin, during 1991. The workshops are part of GLU's pollution prevention project, which also includes publication of a quarterly newsletter, and the upcoming release of two citizens' guides on zero discharge and pollution prevention, and a conference on pollution prevention to be held in early 1992.

Says native group wants control over provincial fisheries

A committee representing Ontario natives has told the province that all public fisheries should be turned over to native ownership and control.

The committee, called the Native People's Circle on Environment and Development, has handed a draft report to the province, making a number of recommendations for the future.

One of the recommendations made to the Ontario Round Table on Environment and Economy states: "For the public good, the Native Circle believes (the fishery) cannot continue to be common property."

The committee—which includes Ontario's top Native Affairs civil servant Mark Krasnick—then states that "the government of Ontario enter into a co-management agreement with aboriginal people, as a transitional stage in granting them full management of the provincial fish stocks."

Rick Morgan, executive vice-president of the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters (OFAH), expressed shock at the native report.

"Native people's demands go much too far," he said.

"They want much more than equality—they want control. We have been warning all Ontarians to become directly involved in negotiations between the current provincial government and Ontario's natives," Morgan said. "But still, too many people are trusting the future of their resources to a handful of native leaders, politicians and civil servants."

Morgan, who has met with several key native leaders in recent months, said the draft report to the province should be taken very seriously.

"This report is telling Ontario residents that natives should be given all of Ontario's fisheries as their own," he said. "That includes the Great Lakes, and recreational areas in the central and northern parts of the province. We're not talking about areas confined to territories of aboriginal land claims. We're talking about every fish in the province of Ontario."

The report states that non-natives cannot responsibly manage the province's fisheries, yet several incidents of native abuse of fish resources have been widely publicized in recent months. "Like any community, there are good and bad people," Morgan said. "Natives do not hold a monopoly on conservation."

Another of the report's recommendations states that the province should fund native game farming operations. In the past year, the OFAH has battled to have the game farming of deer banned because of threats to wildlife of diseases, competition and poaching, due to increased markets.

Morgan pointed out that the Round Table has invited public reaction to its document.

"Ontario's fish stocks, wildlife and Crown lands are very important parts of the cultural heritage of many Ontarians—not just Indians. My forefathers enjoyed and respected our fish and wildlife, and so do we. That respect and enjoyment is not the exclusive domain of native people...nor should control over them be," Morgan said.

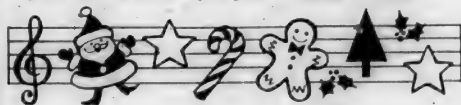

You better watch out: Santa Claus has been checking up on local school children and made a stop at St. Paul's School in Norwood last week to visit its friendly students and staff. It seemed like they had all been nice this past year. Photo/Bill Freeman

Season's Greetings

from the staff of Cembal Publications

This is a letter from Laurie Smith of Hastings:

On behalf of our family, I would like to take this opportunity to let everyone who sponsored our Holly for the annual Easter Seals Skate-A-Thon know how much we appreciated their support.

We spent a great morning December 8th at Maple Leaf Gardens with media celebrities and Leaf players as we secured memorable pictures and autographs. What a thrill it was to meet Paul Henderson, Ron Ellis, Lanny MacDonald, Bobby Orr, Grant Fuhr, etc., etc! How friendly and sincere these heroes were to all the Easter Seal kids who either skated or wheeled around the ice surface. We as parents were so proud that Holly was skating with the pros, and that our son Andrew, 9, got his chance to rub elbows with his idols.

It may be hard to understand for others, but the fact that Holly is even skating, with her prosthetic leg, is a major event for our family. This happened by determination on her part, lots of encouragement, and helping hands from Easter Seals.

We would like to extend special thanks to Barbara Bruce-Pealow and husband

Your donations were part of the close to $400,000 raised at this year's Skate-A-Thon. These monies help children with all kinds of disabilities, helping people in your own communities!

Next year, will no doubt be even better, and this event is an excellent chance for anyone to meet their heroes.

Guardian angel

Each year, approximately 35,000 premature babies are born in hospitals across Canada, some weighing just over two pounds. Preserving their body heat is one of the most important factors in helping to improve their survival rate. This can be accomplished by reducing the amount of heat lost through head, hands and feet with knitted bonnets, mitts and booties.

The Guardian Angels program was created to act as a vital link between people like yourself, who can knit these small garments, and the babies who need them. Through the Guardian Angels program the bonnet, mitts and booties you knit will be donated to a hospital in your area with a neo-natal unit for premature babies.

For your convenience, every Guardian Pharmacy has a special "drop-off bin" for your knitted contributions. Be sure to place them in a paper or plastic bag to keep them clean and fresh. As well, we want to recognize all the Guardian Angels, so please be sure to attach your name and address to your contribution.

The original knitting patterns for this program were created by Coreen Henderson at Bishop and Briscoe Guardian Pharmacy in Kingston, Ontario. If you require more information on any aspect of the Guardian Angels program feel free to call your own Guardian Pharmacist who will be pleased to answer any questions you may have.

Barbara Notes:

I copied this from the back of the pattern. My husband Larry picked this pattern up for me at Guardian Drugs in Stirling. When you knit, you can help save a life.

- 4 cups freshly brewed tea
- 4 cups apple cider or juice
- 2 cinnamon sticks, broken
- 12 whole cloves
- 2 slices fresh ginger root, peeled
- Brown sugar or liquid honey to taste
- Orange slices, halved, and cinnamon sticks for garnish

Combine tea, cider, broken cinnamon sticks, cloves and ginger in a saucepan and bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer for 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Taste and sweeten with brown sugar or honey.

Transfer to crock pot, or to a container to cool and refrigerate for reheating later. Makes 8 cups (2 L).

In addition, part of the $3.5 million component will be allocated to farmers with low yields in crops not covered under crop insurance.

Finally, a portion of the fund will also be used to fund counselling and emergency support services to farmers in need.

Agriculture and Food Minister Elmer Buchanan has announced details of a $3.5 million financial stress component of the emergency assistance package for Ontario farmers.

Following consultation with farm groups, it was decided to fund three programs aimed at alleviating the psychological and financial pressures being experienced by farmers throughout Ontario.

On Oct. 1st, the Minister announced a $35.5 million Emergency Assistance Program for Ontario farmers. The package included a $3.5 million component to farmers and farm families experiencing financial stress from market prices or drought.

Since that date, the Ministry has received final data on the number of applicants to the Farm Interest Assistance Program, which provides assistance to farmers for their interest payments. As a result of unexpected demand for this program, $1.8 million of the $3.5 million component will be allocated to the Farm Interest Assistance Program.

Most snowmobilers take their trails for granted. As if they simply appear by magic each year. It is this misconception that leads to abuse and problems, not the least of which is failure to buy an Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs' (OFSC) trail permit.

Like the proverbial iceberg tip, a good trail is the visible result of incredible behind-the-scenes effort, time dedication and dollars. Your local club volunteers do this work and promote safe snowmobiling in your community. The "magic" begins early in the off-season and continues until the last snow has melted. The least the rest of us can do is to recognize their unflagging efforts by paying our way.

Before trail preparations can commence, each local club approaches every land owner to ask for a renewal of the "permit" for that club's trails and members to cross that land on their snowmobiles. Often this is simple; sometimes elaborate negotiations occur with trail re-routing compromises. Other times, due to abuses that often include trespass by ATV's, the land owner revokes permission, causing expensive disruptions of entire portions of the trail system and revision of club maps.

New property owners have to be diplomatically introduced to the idea of permitting winter crossing of their land. Even crown land may require special use permits. All land is owned by someone and using it is a privilege, not a right, so the continued use of some trails is tenuously dependent on how its used or abused.

Once permission is granted, volunteers spend many autumn days in the bush cutting new trails, or clearing fallen trees, undergrowth, rocks, stumps, and debris from old ones so the grooming machines can get through and so the trails are as smooth as possible before the first snow. Bridges need to be built or rebuilt and dips to be filled in with rocks or debris. Some clubs build ramps on either side of particularly steep inclines to make the ascent and descent less of a suspension test. Shallow water courses are often inter-laid with small logs placed lengthwise to the flow to assist in ease of crossing.

Trails need continual reassessment to determine if they are still viable, taking into account such factors as avoidance of steep hills, side slopes, washouts, south-facing slopes and new water courses, or as the improvement of sight lines, or as simply making a route more scenic. Safety dictates that re-routing of trails around swamps and waterways, or to avoid or improve road crossings, or to circumvent known problem areas. Environmental concerns mandate the avoidance of reforestation areas and deer yards; the provision of proper toilet and waste facilities, and the prevention of soil erosion by proper trail layout. All trail work must meet the approval of the property owner.

Trails also need to be marked with traffic, warning and directional signs. Traffic signs are similar to road signs since the rules are the same.

Warning signs caution riders about upcoming hazards, corners or obstacles. Both are expensive and OFSC has a subsidy program to assist our local clubs to erect more signs. QFSC regulations require that directional arrows be placed at regular intervals along the trail both to guide snowmobilers and to mark the "permitted" corridors. Intersections need to be marked with location and distance signs as well as copies of club "you-are-here" maps. Some clubs colour code their routes by direction or destination on both map and trail sign and/or number their trails.

The trick with signing is to put yourself in the place of the snowmobilers. Where are they most likely to look first? If they don't know the trail, what signs and placement will they understand most easily? Where are the signs least likely to be vandalized or stolen or shot up?

In the midst of this activity, other club members sell new OFSC trail permits. Of the money received for each full price permit, about 70% stays with our local clubs, while the balance goes to GST, OFSC expenses, liability insurance, and a contribution to a special new OFSC Environment Fund.

Meanwhile, plans are being finalized for poker runs, Easter Seals fund raisers, dances, family days and cook-outs. And some special crew has the grooming equipment in the shop, repairing and refurbishing. And waiting for that first snow to fall to let the "magic" be appreciated once again.

* $1.8 million to support the ministry's Farm Interest Assistance Program which received more applications than expected, with almost 15,000 farmers applying by the Oct. 31 deadline.

* To improve local counselling services, $1.2 million will be available over two years for community non-profit counselling and emergency support services. This would include enhancing the ministry's Family Farm Advisor Service, a program in which farmers counsel farmers in difficulty.

* $500,000 for farmers with low yields in crops for which no crop insurance plan exists. These include such crops as flax and melons. The Ontario government's crop insurance program covers 54 different crops and has 25,000 producers enrolled.

Program details and application forms for the counselling services grants and the special crop assistance programs will be available from local OMAF field offices by Dec. 20, 1991.

In addition to this $3.5 million component, the original $35.5 million aid package provided assistance for grain and oilseed producers to cover their stabilization plan premiums, for producers of edible horticultural crops and for apple, onion, honey and fur producers as well as additional funding for the Farm Interest Assistance Program.

Common car problems are easiest to prevent: CAA

Automobile technicians know that motorists can keep their car running safely by following a few basic steps.

Yet, nationwide tests by the Canadian Automobile Association show thousands of people consistently ignore the basics and risk serious car trouble.

Working from CAA diagnostic centres and mobile diagnostic vans, CAA technicians have tested nearly 100,000 vehicles across Canada since 1984. Among vehicles tested, CAA found that 43 per cent had worn or under-inflated tires, 30 per cent had worn or misadjusted belts, 30 per cent were overdue for an oil change or were low on oil, 26 per cent had emissions problems and 21 per cent needed battery maintenance.

"Motorists should pay more attention to routine maintenance procedures that can dramatically affect the performance and reliability of their vehicles," said Ron Horton, director of club services, CAA Peterborough.

"Taking a few minutes each week to inspect the car can mean the difference between a safe trip and being stuck at roadside," he added.

In cold weather, motorists should check the oil, battery and tires each week. Proper oil levels and battery condition are essential to starting a car when the temperature drops. Tires that are correctly inflated and in good condition offer the most traction on slippery roads.

Other items, such as belts and emission levels, may require the help of a mechanic.

"Motorists should begin the winter driving season by having their car inspected by a good technician and serviced, if necessary," Horton said. "The cost of an inspection is minimal compared to the hundreds of dollars in costs that a breakdown may incur."

CAA has been talking cars since 1903. The not-for-profit federation of 17 motor clubs has more than 120 offices providing its more than 3.4 million members in Canada with travel, insurance, financial and automotive-related services.

The Queensborough Women's Institute

The December meeting of the Queensborough Branch of the Women's Institute was held in the hall on Wednesday, Dec. 11 beginning at 8 p.m. with Mrs. Jennifer Bagshaw as hostess.

Mrs. Dorothy Less, president opened the meeting in the usual way. The "Roll Call" "Describe a good deed someone has done for you" was answered by 14 members in a variety of ways. There was one visitor.

The minutes were read and correspondence read and discussed. There were a couple of donations for lunches served at Mrs. Ernest Groves funeral, and from a group of Gospel singers where lunch was also served.

It was decided to give a donation to the recreation committee to help with the expenses of redecorating the hall which was done this past summer, and it surely looks very nice.

It was decided to give gifts of food or flowers to our sick and shut-ins again this year.

Mrs. Erika Gammage, "Family and Consumers' affairs consumer" was in charge of the program. She began by reading a short story on "Yes Virginia there is a Santa Claus". She then presented a contest on different names that groups of animals and birds were called.

We were then given the makings of a rose, which after some difficulty most members managed to complete. This was the end of the program. "The Queen" was sung and a lunch was served and a social time was enjoyed by all.

Donation to Food Bank

The Christmas spirit continues at Centre Hastings this week, with seasonal activities prepared by groups like students' council, CHIC and even our intrepid cafeteria staff, who always manage to get involved around holiday time.

The recent Christmas Auction, in which students' council auctioned off various donated gift items, was a huge success. The event saw some pretty big spenders show up to bid on items that included a stuffed Bugs Bunny, an enormous black forest cake and a six foot long submarine sandwich. In all, the auction raised over $1,600 which will go to local charities. CHSS student council thanks those students and staff who so willingly participated!

The intramural council is keeping the spirit up with loads of contests, events and activities. Christmas sharing continued until last week, and the food accumulated was delivered recently. The Candy Cane Hunt and "Ho Ho Ho" Contests went off smoothly, as did the Fowl Shooting competition - no that's not a spelling mistake, simply because the finalists in this event don't shoot a basketball, they fire rubber chickens! The winners of the event wins a Christmas turkey, to eat or play basketball with at their leisure...

Finally this week, our cafeteria staff has once again done something special for the holiday season. Kate Kincaid and company prepared their annual Christmas dinner on Thursday, Dec. 12 for students at the minimal cost of $3.50. It is always a delicious meal, and this year was no exception - our thanks and appreciation should be extended to these ladies. They always seem to participate at Hallowe'en, at Black and Gold days, during the recent milk campaign, by either dressing up or encouraging students to participate. Their loyalty to CHSS is not underestimated by staff or students. Thanks again!

Check out "CHSS News" next week for a final round-up before Christmas vacation.

Madoc Township Council Minutes

reserves the right to remove the culvert. Carried.

It was moved by Sager and seconded by Robinson that council adjourn. Carried.

Madoc Township held its inaugural meeting on Dec. 2. Reeve Gerald Reid, Deputy-Reeve Robert Sager, Councillors, Lynn McCoy, Graeme Burris, Raeborn Robinson, Chief Building Official Doug Keller and Road Superintendent Tom Bruce.

The clerk called the meeting to order at 11 a.m. He briefly outlined the challenges facing the incoming council in the areas of Provincial funding cutbacks, planning and zoning, waste management, amalgamation and restructuring and taxation. He welcomed the new council and wished them luck in meeting the challenges of the next three years.

The reeve, deputy-reeve and councillors then took the oath of elected office.

The reeve addressed council and hoped that a spirit of co-operation and common sense would help council get a great deal accomplished and keep control of the finances. The deputy-reeve echoed the spending controls and cited a need for long-range planning regarding road construction and maintenance. Councillor Robinson was pleased to return and hoped to get the best out of the resources belonging to the township. Councillor McCoy said he was looking forward to working here. He mentioned the efficient office staff and by working together hoped to keep taxes under control.

Councillor Burris advised that it would be a learning experience for him and that his own idea of how to keep taxes down is to limit expenditures. There was no conflict of interest with any of the items on the agenda.

HOW TO KILL A BUSINESS IN TEN EASY STEPS

- 1. Don't advertise. Just pretend everybody already knows that you are in business.
- 2. Don't advertise. Tell yourself you just don't have the time to spend thinking about promoting your business.
- 3. Don't advertise. Just assume everybody knows what you sell.
- 4. Don't advertise. Convince yourself that you've been in business so long that customers will automatically come to you.
- 5. Don't advertise. Forget that there are new potential customers who would do business with you if they were urged to do so.
- 6. Don't advertise. Forget that you have competition trying attract your customers away from you.
- 7. Don't advertise. Tell yourself it costs too much to advertise and that you don't get enough out of it.
- 8. Don't advertise. Overlook the fact that advertising is an investment in selling - not an expense.
- 9. Don't advertise. Be sure not to provide an adequate budget for business.
- 10. Don't advertise. Forget that you have to keep reminding you established customers that you appreciate their business.
